OUR TICKET.

The Republican State Convention held at Harrisburg yesterday was marked with the spirit of harmony and conciliation in all its deliberations, and it put forward as good and acceptable candidates as the importance of the coming campaign demands. Col. David Stanton, the nominee for the office of Auditor General, is known well throughout the entire Commonwealth, and wherever known he is highly appreciated and esteemed for his many noble qualities of head and heart. He is of the good Quaker stock that furnished a Secretary of War (his cousin) to the nation during the rebellion, who knew only how to discharge his full and patriotic duty, and who died as much a martyr to the holy cause of our Union as any who perished on the field. Col. Stanton was born in Salem, Ohio, in 1839, and in 1850 came to Pennsylvania, where, at New Brighton, he entered into the practice of medicine. At the commencement of the war he entered the army as surgeon to the First Pennsylvania Cavalry, after which he was promoted to the position of Superintendent of Hospital and acting medical director of the Northern department of the army. For zeal and diligence in the discharge of duty, he was raised to the rank of Colonel in 1865. His whole life has been devoted to the cause of universal liberty, and his influence was great in the bringing about of the complete abolition of slavery.

Col. Robert B. Beath, the candidate for Surveyor General, is an equally good man and fully as worthy public esteem. He is an honest, unostentatious citizen in whom the people of the anthracite coal regions repose the largest measure of confidence. He holds his residence in Schuylkill county, where he has been often chosen as an arbitrator to act upon the conflicting interests of the miners and operators—the laborers and the capitalists. His selection was most judicious and cannot fail to secure the hearty endorsement of the whole party.

Now that a good ticket has been nominated, one above the average, we hope every Republican will set himself to work to secure its success. With united efforts there is no good reason why the State should not give a majority of twenty thousand next Fall for our ticket. The people are yet right, and are willing to confide in the Republican party the great trusts of the State and Nation, and it only requires harmony of action in our ranks to secure such glorious results as we have secured so often before.

MEMPHIS.

Steamboat Collision.

MEMPHIS, May 17.—The steamboats Potomac and St. Francis collided at one o'clock this morning opposite Clark's Towhead, fifty miles below here. Fortunately little damage was done. The larboard guard of the St. Francis was torn away, and the jackstaff of the Potomac knocked down.

CROP REPORTS.

The crop reports are still more gloomy. Owing to the continued rains, cool weather, caterpillars and virmin, the young cotton has been destroyed. Many planters are without means to replant.

NEGRO OUTRAGE.

The Batesville, Arkansas, Republican of the 10th instant says a negro named George Washington attempted an outrage on a little daughter of George Calvin, aged three years, but the child's mother drove him off. On the return of Mr. Calvin, he and some others pursued the negro into Missouri and captured him, and brought him back and hung him.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT HIMSELF.

The same paper also says that Nimrod E. Henthorne, while out hunting, shot himself accidentally and died.

A WOMAN BURNED.

Carrie Barker, a well-known courtezan of Little Rock, was fatally burned by an explosion of coal oil last Sunday evening.

COLUMBUS.

Burglary.

COLUMBUS, May 17.—The Adams Express office at the depot in this city was entered by burglars this morning, between two and three o'clock. Two men who slept in the office were drugged, and two safes were opened, and between forty and fifty thousand dollars taken therefrom. No clue to the robbers.

MORE OF THE EXPRESS ROBBERY.

The Adams Express Company was robbed of between forty and fifty thousand dollars here this morning. The company has an old room in the rickety depot in this city, and the money stolen was taken from there. Two young men occupy the room. When the midnight trains went out they looked after their duties as usual, and when the next train arrived, about 2 A. M., neither came out to look after the interests of the Adams Express Company. The express messenger went to the company's room to see what was up. He found the door open, but could arouse neither of the men by calling, and finally went to them and shook them. With difficulty they were awakened, and then the robbery was discovered, the safe having been opened with a key, which was left in the lock. It is supposed the men had been drugged and the key taken from their pockets. The outer door of the room was very insecurely fastened, and could be easily opened. The exact amount of property taken cannot now be told, but will reach over $40,000.

CHICAGO.

A Tornado.

CHICAGO, May 17.—A tornado passed over Bridgeport, in the southwest part of this city, last evening. A number of buildings were blown down, including a Catholic church. Mrs. Mary Moore was killed by a falling beam, and several persons were more or less injured.

A tornado yesterday at Montgomery, three miles from Aurora, destroyed P. & R. Richardson's lumber warehouse, and one or two other buildings.

FOUND DEAD.

The dead bodies of two unknown boys were found on the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railroad track near this city, last evening. It is supposed that they sought shelter from the storm under some freight cars standing on the track, and the cars, forced into motion by the wind, ran over and killed them.

MRS. LINCOLN.

Mrs. Lincoln and her son Tad arrived here last night.

BURNED.

The foundry and machine shop of G. Challinor, at Olio, was burned May 15th. Loss $20,000. No insurance.

SAN FRANCISCO

A Frightful Affair.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The steamer Pelican from Eureka, reports a frightful affair on the trip up the coast. A family from Indiana having one girl, 11 years of age, sick, were passengers. In the night the steward a Malay named Smith, married to a white woman of this city, entered the sick child's room, drugged and ravished her. Arrived at Umpqua, the citizens formed a lynch court, tried him, sentenced him to death, tied him up, placed him in the stern of a small boat which the citizens selected: a lot of men rowed up stream out of sight of the steamer. A shot was then heard.

The citizens returned in the boat alone and reported that Smith had gone on a long journey and concluded not to return to say good bye.

BINGHAMPTON.

The Doomed Ruloff.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., May 17.—Ruloff rose at 3 o'clock this morning apparently in a cheerful frame of mind and has not paid the least attention to religious matters, but on the contrary, constantly indulges in violent and profane language, abusive of Governor Hoffman and others, for cutting him off before the completion of his work. He has by this conduct forfeited what little public sympathy and respect, he yet retained and not a word is now heard in his favor. The gallows will be put in place this afternoon. The execution will take place in the yard of the Jail, at noon to-morrow.

ST. LOUIS.

Burned by Naptha.

ST. LOUIS, May 17.—A kettle of boiling material in the soap factory of Chas. Williams, into which naptha had been poured, overflowed yesterday afternoon. The naptha took fire and communicated to Mrs. Williams, who was standing near, and before the flames could be extinguished she was so badly burned that she died soon after. Samuel Williams, J. C. Smith and another man were seriously burned in attempting to rescue Mrs. Williams.

Miss Maggie Thompson, who was shockingly burned last Saturday by the bursting of a coal lamp, died of her injuries yesterday.

The Coal Troubles.

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—A dispatch from Pottsville says in regard to the question of wages between the operators and miners, Judge Elwell rendered a decision making the basis at $2.75 sliding down to $2.25, and 10 per cent. off for contract work.

U. S. SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 17, 1871.

The Senate met at noon, and the Vice President laid before that body an answer to a former resolution calling for a copy of the report of William Whiting, late Solicitor of the War Department, containing a list of claims from foreign subjects, growing out of transactions of the rebellion.

The Vice President in reply to Sumner, said the report was in a printed volume transmitted and two written pages from the Secretary of State accompanied it. About thirty-five pages of the book related to those claims.

Mr. Sumner thought that as the information was not generally accessible, it ought to be printed with the letter of the Secretary of State. The printing was ordered, and then on motion of Mr. Cameron, the Senate went into executive session.

At ten minutes past one o'clock Messrs. White and Ramsdell were brought into the Senate under arrest.

Mr. CARPENTER from the Select Council offered a resolution that required the Vice President to propound a question to them as to what excuse they had for not answering certain interrogations relative to premature publication of the Treaty and whether they were now prepared to answer all proper questions asked by the Committee.

Mr. CARPENTER made a statement showing the undoubted right of the Senate to make interrogation, and the impropriety of making public, matters of such vast importance. He said there were two courses, either of which they must pursue: First—The Senate must go forward and compel obedience to its rules, or confess in the face of the world its want of nerve and its weakness.

Mr. FENTON offered a substitute for the pending resolution requiring the question to be propounded as follows: Did you receive a copy of the Treaty, whether from a Senator or Clerk or Secretary of a Senator, or any officer or any employee of the Senate or any member of his family. This was as far as they ought to go.

Mr. WILSON supported the substitute speaking in favor of a free press and saying this proposition would indicate the Senate and then they ought to stop.

Mr. MORTON took similar ground, and said he would vote for the substitute. He thought an answer to the interrogations proposed by it was sufficient, but whether the witnesses should be required to answer outside of this was a doubtful question. This document was not exclusively a Senate document. It belonged to the British Government as well as to ours, and it also belonged to the Executive Department. If it had been published by the Secretary of State no one would have pretended that the Senate had jurisdiction over the matter, nor, had it been stolen from the Executive Department, would the Senate have jurisdiction to punish the criminal. There were abuses in the press. They defame and abuse the personal character of public men, and publish statements that are false and malicious. These things abound too much. But the obtaining of information could not be regarded as among the abuses of the press.

Mr. THURMAN said that if anybody was responsible for the publication of what purported to be the treaty, it was the managing editor of the paper in which it appeared. He should vote for Fenton's substitute, though he did not believe it was logically correct. If these witnesses should be imprisoned until this session ends, neither the dignity of the Senate, Constitution, country or laws of the land would be vindicated, and it would be a ridiculous farce.

Mr. TIPTON said the Senator from Wisconsin (Carpenter) talked about the dignity of the Senate. Who cared for such dignity when the Senate made such untimely exhibitions of itself as to-day. Mr. Tipton drew a ludicrous picture of this investigation and made some timely hits which occasioned much laughter.

Mr. MORRILL, of Vermont, said he had no doubt that when discovered it would implicate some Senator in carelessness.

Mr. FENTON'S substitute was disagreed to by a vote of 21 to 37.

Mr. TRUMBULL offered an amendment to the pending resolution as follows, adding the words: To be answered by the witness touching the disclosure, directly or indirectly, through any member of the Senate or any officer employed there, of what purports to be a copy of the treaty of Washington, now pending before the Senate in executive session. He advocated his amendment.

Mr. TRUMBULL'S amendment was agreed to—yeas 29, nays 2.

Mr. SUMNER asked whether they had not proceeded far enough. They had already spent two days on this subject. In the words of the Roman Tribune he asked "Cui Bono" for what good purpose could they continue their investigation. He thought the Senate had better stop. They had gone far enough. They had shown reasonable alacrity in the inquiry and had better abandon the whole inquiry. To prosecute it further would answer no good purpose to the Senate or country.

The resolution of Mr. CARPENTER was then agreed to, yeas 42, nays 14 in the following form: Resolved, That Z. L. White now in custody of the Sergeant-at-arms of the Senate on an attachment for contempt in refusing to answer certain questions propounded to him while he was being examined as witness by a select committee of the Senate, therefore it is duly authorized that he be arraigned at the bar of the Senate, and that the President of the Senate propound to him the following interrogatories: 1st, What excuse have you for not answering several interrogatories propounded to you by members of the special committee of the Senate before which committee you were examined as a witness on the 15th day of May instant.

Second, Are you now ready to appear before the said Committee and answer all proper questions that may be put to you by said Committee touching the disclosure directly or indirectly through any members of the Senate or any officer or employee thereof, of what purports to be a copy of the Treaty of Washington now pending before the Senate in executive session, and that be be required to answer the same, and that the Secretary of the Senate take his answer in writing, and that said witness be first sworn by the Vice President, and that the Vice President then is to propound to him the several interrogations which were propounded to him by the said committee, and which he refused to answer, as shown by the report of said committee, and that said witness be required to answer the same, and that the Secretary of the Senate reduce his answer to writing.

Mr. White was then, in pursuance of the resolution, escorted to the front of the Secretary's desk by the Sergeant-at-Arms, when the Vice President propounded the questions to him. White said he was not now prepared to reply, and asked that leave be given until to-morrow noon for that purpose. The request was granted.

On motion of Mr. CARPENTER a similar resolution was adopted as to Ramsdell. This gentleman was also escorted to the desk of the Secretary, when the Vice President propounded the questions. Ramsdell also asked time to prepare an answer, which was granted.

The Senate then, at five o'clock adjourned.

Messrs. White and Ramsdell were released on their parole to appear and answer at the time stated.

A PARISIAN SPECTACLE.

PARIS, May 16, Evening.—There was a tremendous scene at the fall of the Column Vendome this afternoon. The fall was announced for two o'clock, and all the balconies in the Place Vendome were thronged with ladies. Rues de la Paix and Castaglione were crowded. Three bands of music arrived while the workmen were engaged in chipping the base of the column. M. Abadie next arrived and inspected the windlass. The excitement was intense. Rochefort next appeared, and the people crowded around him, giving him loud cheers. Soon all arrangements were completed, and the bugles sounded, as if the column, like the walls of Jericho, was to fall from a blast. The cable stretched and tightened; the column stood firm, the windlass broke and the pulley flew into the air and then descended, striking a sailor and wounding him. After this accident, Abadie declared that he needed two hours in which to repair the tackle. At a quarter past four o'clock it was given out that the column would not fall before seven o'clock. A general expression of disapprobation went through the crowd. Abadie was accused of complicity with the Versailles Government, and threatened with the guillotine. At twenty minutes past five the cable was again stretched for the work of demolition. Suddenly, to the surprise of the spectators, the vast column moved and swayed. It next swept magnificently down, bursting into fragments as it struck the earth. It fell lengthwise into the Rue de la Paix, exactly on the manure cushion prepared for it, splintering with a dull, heavy, lumbering sound, while a thick cloud of dust of crushed and powdered masonry rose in the air. The crowd, as soon as the column fell, gave tremendous shouts of "Vive La Commune," and the bands played the Marseillaise Hymn. When the dust was cleared away, there lay the glorious column shattered to pieces, its bronze and masonry in two masses together, and in the middle the statue of the Emperor several feet from one end of the column with the head knocked off. The crowd rushed forward to collect the fragments as relics, and the guards were unable to resist the rush. Next the orators commenced their speeches, indulging in all sorts of extravagant language. The statue of the Emperor was treated as if it was the Emperor himself. The National Guards spit into its face and struck it with their rifles.

After the ceremonies were over the crowd dispersed and the soldiers moved off, waving their red flag, and giving expression to their joy in continual shouting.

THE GRAND ASSAULT.

It is believed that the grand assault will take place in a few hours. The enemies of M. Thiers assert that he is delaying in ordering it because he is afraid that the end of his power will arrive, when the army captures the city.

THE FALL OF THE COLUMN VENDOME.

PARIS, May 17.—The Column Vendome fell into three pieces. The square in which it stood will henceforth be known as the Place International.

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

A resolution was passed that the Convention shall elect a Chairman of the State Central Committee.

MR. CESSNA'S SPEECH.

John Cessna in a speech, stated that much depended on the work done to-day, especially so far as concerned civil institutions. The objects of the Democrats were to repeal the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments. The election in 1872 depends on our work to-day. Rally all who were with us in 1864, and the new recruits, and victory will perch on our banners in 1871 and 1872.

INTRODUCED.

Colonel A. S. Wallace, of South Carolina, was introduced by Mr. Cessna as an original Republican who dare not now go home.

AUDITOR GENERAL.

THANKS.

Mr. Stanton, in a speech expressed his thanks for the honor conferred upon him.

Mr. Medley, in his speech said he was an unconditional Republican, born in Philadelphia, and of course modest.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Errett, chairman on resolutions read the following:

The Republicans of Pennsylvania assembled in State Convention declare that:

First—They demand of the Legislature the immediate passage of an act calling a State Convention to amend the constitution for the purpose, among other things, of abolishing and prohibiting special legislation, securing the election of State officers by the people, establishing a judicial system that will make justice prompt and sure, and providing for the passage of general laws that shall so encourage industrial enterprise that Pennsylvania shall be enabled to take her just place in the front rank of all States.

Second—They demand of Congress that the credit of the nation be maintained, home industry encouraged and protected, an adequate civil service system established for regulating appointments to offices, taxes reduced to the lowest possible limit consistent with the steady but not too rapid extinction of the national debt, the honor of the republic sustained at home and abroad, the rights of every man protected in all the States and every man entitled thereto secured in the polling of one vote and no more at each election.

Third—They declare their unalterable attachment to the principles of protection to home industry in the levying of tariff duties, in accordance with the wise policy which has existed from the foundation of the Government to this time.

Fourth—They commend the policy of retrenchment and wholesome enforcement of the laws which has prevailed since the election of General Grant to the Presidency, and which has resulted in the first two years of his administration in reducing the national debt over ten hundred millions, and in curtailing the taxes to the extent of eighty millions annually. They commend also the similar policy which has prevailed under Republican rule in Pennsylvania, resulting in paying off the war debt of three and a half millions, reducing the State debt from forty to thirty millions, and in abolishing the State tax on real estate. It is the fact that since both the State and nation have been in Republican hands, that we owe the accomplishment of such gratifying results, and it is to the continuance of that party in power the people must alone look for the continuance of this policy. The return of the Democrats to power in either State or nation, must inevitably be attended with a return to extravagance in expenditures, to the impairment of State and national credit, and to the abandonment of that protection to free labor under which our industry has thriven and our people been made prosperous.

Fifth—That in the judgment of this Convention, the time has now come when the State tax on personal estate may be safely abolished and the other taxes imposed by State laws, also prudently be reduced, without injury to the credit of the Commonwealth.

Sixth—That as an indication of what the people may fear from a return of the Democratic party to power, we point to the criminal waste of the time and money of the people by the present Democratic majority of the State Senate. The Legislature has now been nearly five months in session and is not yet nearly through with its legitimate business, owing to the obstructive policy of this majority. In all this time scarcely a single measure of public interest has been perfected, and the time has been wasted in their efforts to force on our State, an unjust apportionment, and to break down the registry law against illegal voting, that they might thereby pave the way to their return to power through violence and fraud.

Seventh—We commend to the support of the people of the State the candidates we have this day nominated for State offices. They are honest, capable and faithful to the constitution, and in every way worthy the public confidence. We ask for their election as an endorsement of the State and National Administrations, as an approval of the time-honored principles of the Republican party which we re-affirm in their nomination, and as a fitting rebuke to the Democratic party for its destructive national policy, for its adherence to the side of violence and wrong in the South, and for the spirit it has betrayed in the Senate of this State this winter, where it has made everything to bend to the promotion of partisan interests, defeated the holding of a State Convention to amend our Constitution, wasted the public time in childish trifling, and entailed upon the State a huge bill of expense for a session prolonged beyond endurance, and which has prevented the accomplishment of any public good.

Ninth—That the administration of President Grant meets the full approval of the Republican party of Pennsylvania. His financial policy by which the national debt is being steadily reduced, the reduction in the expenditures of the Government, the honest collection of the revenue, his fidelity to the principles of human rights through which the liberty of all is to be secured in every part of the land, his loyalty to the people in having no policy to enforce against their will, and the spotless integrity of his administration, point to him as the honored leader of our party now, and the proper standard-bearer of the Republican party in 1872.

Tenth—That our confidence in the firmness, wisdom and integrity of our present worthy Governor, John W. Geary, remains unshaken, and that we believe his qualifications for the office he now holds are unquestionable, as is clearly proved by the manner he has brought the State, in safety, through every storm.

GRANT FOR REELECTION.

Mr. Shannon, in a speech of ten minutes duration, offered an amendment, endorsing General Grant as the candidate for President in 1872. After some debate it was adopted with three hearty cheers.

THE STATE CHAIRMANSHIP.

A motion was made by Mr. Errett that the State Central Committee shall be constituted in the same way as before and the distribution of members be as usual.

A motion was made by Mr. Mann of Potter, to make Mr. Strang of Tioga, Chairman of the State Committee.

Mr Ketchup of Luzerne also named Col. Forney and a warm debate followed.

Mr. Quay moved that the chairman of this Convention and its nominees, appoint a chairman of the State Committee.

This was adopted.

RETIRING STATE OFFICERS.

Mr. Shannon moved a vote of thanks to Messrs. Hartranft and Campbell for the able manner in which they had discharged the duties of their office.

ADJOURNED.

The convention then adjourned with three cheers for Stanton and Beath.

BEATH'S RECORD.

Colonel Robert B. Beath was born in Philadelphia, January 26, 1839, of Scotch parentage. He served his apprenticeship with Merrick & Sons. At the outset of the war he enlisted as a private, serving during the three months' service in Company G 23d Pennsylvania. He was mustered out as sergeant. In September he was again mustered in, as sergeant of Company D 88th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, his second Lieutenancy dating December, 1862. He was wounded in the foot at the second Bull Run battle. In August, 1863, he was promoted Captain of Company A. Sixth colored troops. In 1864 he was again wounded in the foot, resulting in the amputation of the right leg below the knee. He was then placed in charge of the sub-district of Wilmington, and remained in this position until mustered out with the regiment in 1865, when he received a commission as Lieutenant Colonel. Mr. Beath is at present engaged as book-keeper in one of the largest collieries in Schuylkill county, and is especially fitted for the important post of Surveyor General.

CADETS SELECTED.

WASHINGTON, May 17, 1871.

THE WEATHER.

Synopsis for the past twenty-four hours—The barometer has fallen somewhat on the Pacific coast, with high westerly winds. It has risen from the upper lakes eastward to the Atlantic and is now lowest on the lower Missouri and south of the Cumberland Mountains. The temperature has risen during the day on the South Atlantic and has fallen on the lakes and Eastern States. Threatening and rainy weather has moved eastward and prevailed during the night from Ohio to New Jersey and northward, but has now almost entirely cleared away. Partially cloudy and clear weather has prevailed north and west of Indiana.

Probabilities—It is probable that local rains will pass over the Middle Gulf coast and that a storm of moderate dimensions will pass over Georgia and South Carolina. A more extended rain is threatening the Ohio valley and Illinois. Cloudy weather with brisk north-eastern winds will probably be experienced from Lake Erie north-westward. Fresh westerly winds are probable for the Middle and Eastern States.

CADETS SELECTED.

The President has made the following selections of cadets at large at West Point: Francis H. Hardie, son of Inspector General James A. Hardie, U. S. A.; Hamlin Spiegel, Ohio, son of Colonel Spiegel of the volunteer army; John Pitcher, son of General Thos. G. Pitcher; Francis Preston Fremont, son of Major General John C. Fremont; Eben Swift, son of surgeon Swift, regular army; Wm. Reeve Hamilton, Wisconsin, son of Gen. Chas. S. Hamilton, volunteers; Almer H. Wells, Michigan, United States volunteer soldier, who distinguished himself in the rebellion; Hamilton Rowan, Maryland, son of Vice Admiral Rowan; John R. Williams, Michigan, son of Brig.-General Williams, of volunteers, killed at Baton Rouge. These appointments at large are made as required by law a year in advance of the date of admission.

KU-KLUX.

The select committee on Ku-Klux outrages met this morning and recommended the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That for the present a sub-committee of seven members be appointed to proceed at once with the investigation, and until otherwise ordered, to continue the same in Washington, with power to reassemble the committee, when in their judgment it may be expedient.

An adjournment took place until to-morrow, when it is supposed the resolution will be acted on.

STATE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

At the annual meeting of the New York State Associated Press, held in this city today, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Joseph Warren, Buffalo Courier; Secretary and Treasurer, Ellis H. Roberts, Utica Herald; Executive Committe, J. C. Cuyler, Albany Express, Carrol E. Smith, Syracuse Journal, George G. Cooper, Rochester Union, H. O. R. Tucker, Troy Times, and Chas. G. Fairman, Elmira Advertiser. Resolutions were adopted denouncing the cable company and expressing sympathy and earnest co-operation with the New York Associated Press in their efforts to expose and reform the abuses in the cable service.

PROTESTING AGAINST WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Mrs. Sherman, wife of Gen. Sherman, Mrs. Dalgreen, Mrs. Catharine E. Bucher and other ladies of prominence are industriously engaged through the proper agencies, in procuring signatures to a petition to Congress protesting against the extension of the suffrage to woman. In furtherance of their object a monthly paper called "True Woman" is published at Baltimore under their auspices.

NOMINATIONS.

The President to-day transmitted to the Senate the following nominations: Robert H. Milroy, United States Marshal, Wyoming Territory; Edwin S. Stanton, son of the late Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of the Territory for District of Columbia.

WOMEN TO VOTE.

A bill has been introduced in the House of Delegates of the Territory of Columbia to extend to females the right to vote and hold office.

BIGAMOUS BOWEN.

The trial of the second bigamy case against C. C. Bowen of South Carolina is set for Tuesday next.

SCRANTON.

More Rioting.

SCRANTON, May 17.—At five o'clock this evening as the laborers and miners working at Briggs' Shaft were returning to their homes, escorted by a small squad of soldiers, they were assaulted by a crowd of about two hundred Welsh miners who threw stones and other missels at them. Two of the laborers were struck, one on the breast and the other on the leg by large stones, upon which a soldier leveled his gun at one of the assailants and fired, killing Benjamin Davis and David Jones, Welsh miners. The laborers were peaceable, molesting no one, and not even replying to the insults which were showered upon them by their assailants. The soldiers only retaliated when they were assaulted with stones. Only one shot was fired—that which killed the two men. Public opinion fully justifies the act, and it is hoped it will have a salutary effect on that class who have instituted a reign of terror and lawlessness here.

HONESDALE, PA.

Stores Burned.

HONESDALE, May 17.—A fire broke out in Cummings' store last night, and it, together with the stores of R. J. Minner & Co., J Snyder, Knap & Jenkins and W. & L. Weston, were burned. The loss is about $250,000, upon which there is an insurance of $100,000.

HARRISBURG.

Senator Cameron's Daughter Sick.

HARRISBURG, May 17.—Miss Buside, daughter of Senator Cameron, was struck with paralysis this morning, and is not expected to live. Senator Cameron has been telegraphed for.

The New Bonds—The State Press Association—Two More Jurors in the Foster Case—Obstinate Jurors—Episcopal Convention—The Prize Fight—Ku Klux Troubles—Ruloff to be Hung.

NEW YORK, May 17, 1871.

KU KLUX.

The following is a special to the Tribune: "COLUMBIA, S. C., May 16.—A party of one hundred Ku-Klux visited the Newbury Court House on Sunday night, for the purpose of killing the Republican county officers. They surrounded the house of Mr. Simon Young, a colored man, Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, threw turpentine balls into his bedroom, and fired a volley through the window, shooting Young's wife in the back and his child through the thigh. They then forced open the door, and as they entered Young fired upon the foremost, wounding him severely, and then jumped through the window and ran, receiving two wounds, but making his escape. The Ku-Klux then went to the houses of Mr. Trial, Justice Long and David Halistock, another County Commissioner, but they secreted vessels and escaped. The Probate Judge was warned the night before, and left town. A wounded Ku-Klux was taken by an officer in a buggy and left at a house four miles from town, where he was discovered yesterday, by the Sheriff. He was arrested and found to be a man named Faulkner, well known in Newbury. He is now in jail, but will probably be rescued by his comrades tonight. The Republicans in Columbia are determined to make this a test case under the Ku-Klux law of Congress, and will endeavor to have a United States warrant issued for Faulkner, and the Marshal with a squad of soldiers sent to bring him here for trial in the Federal Court. It is believed that if this is done he will give evidence implicating other outlaws with whom he acted.

KU-KLUXER.

The following is a special to the Herald: The arrested Ku-Klux appeared at Shelby yesterday afternoon before Commissioner Moore. Besides those arrested, eighteen others whose names are included in the warrant voluntarily surrendered themselves. Biggerstaff, the complainant, and all the other witnesses declined to attend, pretending that their lives would be endangered. Biggerstaff further alleges that on Friday night while on his way to appear before the Commissioners, he was again outraged by the Ku-Klux. The story is generally discredited. It is thought that for political effect Biggerstaff's own friend planned the attack. There is no important ground for Biggerstaff's fear for his life. The country is quiet, and if necessary, he could have easily procured a guard. Commissioner Moore ordered the witnesses to be arrested and brought to Shelby to-day. The prisoners seem very anxious to have the whole affair investigated.

RULLOFF TO BE HUNG.

A special dispatch from Elmira last evening says that the approaching fate of the murderer Rulloff has set the public here into a frenzy of excitement. Scarcely anything else is heard of in conversation, and the fact that but twelve persons will be, by law, permitted to witness the execution, causes a good deal of unworthy emulation for a place in the narrow court yard of the county jail where the gallows are being erected; the morbid infection has even extended to the female sex. Rulloff's attorney served a notice on the District Attorney last Friday, informing him that an argument would be made this week before the Governor for the commutation of Rulloff's sentence, solely on the ground of opposition to capital punishment, and the attorney said he would be provided with a petition numerously signed by influential men in New York and elsewhere, setting forth good reasons why the sentence should be commuted. A copy of the notice was enclosed to Attorney General Becker, who came to New York city on Saturday to prepare his papers and petitions, which were sent to the Governor by mail. In a conversation on the subject of the commutation of his sentence on Friday, Rulloff said there was no hope for him; even if the Governor should commute his sentence, he did not believe he could get out of Binghampton alive, as every hand was arrayed against him since he was arrested, and he could not escape violence from the people. Last evening the following dispatch was received:

NEW YORK, May 16—2 P. M.—To George Becker, Binghampton: Have examined the papers which Mr. Angar brought down, and have decided not to interfere in Rulloff's case, either by respite or commutation.

JOHN T. HOFFMAN.

This seals the fate of Ruloff and he will be executed to-morrow. A report has gained considerable circulation that Sheriff Winner had suppressed certain petitions and representations prepared by Rulloff to be forwarded to the Governor, but it is unfounded, as everything Rulloff has written has been sent to their destination as directed, and he has written nothing that the Sheriff has objected to. Rulloff is very anxious to know what the people think and say about him. He says he will never please his enemies enough to write scraps of his history. He is still actively engaged on his philological work, and began writing the key to it on Friday. Extra precautions have been taken to guard against his escape or suicide. He is shackled and guarded by one watchman in day and two at night. Preparations for the execution begin to-day. Over one thousand applications have been received by the Sheriff to witness the hanging.

Rumors being afloat that some unscrupulous persons intend, after Ruloff's death, to publish a history of his life, purporting to be derived from himself, Rulloff to-day issued the following card: This is to certify that I never in any way contributed to the preparation of a work to be sold as my life, and that any such work purporting to be written from information furnished by me will be fraudulent and untrue.

[Signed.] EDWARD H. RULOFF.

IRISH INDIGNATION.

The President of the Irish Republican Association has issued a card, in which he states that all Irish citizens regret the terms of the treaty recently adopted at Washington by the Joint High Commission, and that the American Commissioners studiously ignored the settlement of the naturalization laws, which are an insult, a shame and a fraud, while they continue to deny adequate protection to adopted citizens outside the jurisdiction of the United States. Senators are warned against ratifying the treaty, which will end, like the celebrated treaty of Limerick, in violation and perjury, and which will consign its supporters to eternal oblivion and infamy. The Republican party, to act consistently with its principles, must ignore the treaty.

THE MACE-COBURN FIGHT.

Joe Coburn and his friends assembled at the Clipper office to-day with the view of arranging an early meeting with Mace at some other place than Kansas City. Mace was not present, nor any of his backers, except Harry Hill. The latter showed a letter from some Virginia officials guaranteeing an uninterrupted combat. Coburn put in a claim for the stakes.

OBSTINATE JURORS.

In the case of Dr. Lookup Evans tried at the General Sessions to-day for abortion, ten jurors agreed to a verdict of assault on Ann Drew, and attempt to commit manslaughter in the second degree. Two jurors in spite of Judge Bedford's explanations declared they would never sign such a verdict when the girl consented. The jurors were all locked up for the night.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

At the Episcopal Convention of Long Island to-day, Rev. Dr. Hall, Chairman of the Committee on a General Theological Seminary, announced that it had been decided to remove the institution from New York to Mamaronick, where buildings which will cost $500,000 are to be erected.

TWO MORE.

Two more jurors were obtained in the Foster case to-day making nine so far. There remain seventy-four names in the panel and there is strong probability that at the present rate the panel will be exhausted and a new one called before the jury is complete.

SALES.

There were sales of the new five per cent. bonds to-day at 111⅛@111½. About $300,000 changed hands at these figures.

SUPERVISOR.

T. Powell of New Castle, Indiana, has been appointed Supervisor of Internal Revenue for that State.

ARRIVED.

The steam ship Peruvian from Quebec touched at Moville.

THE NEW LOAN.

The subscriptions to the new loan to-day were $25,000.

LOUISVILLE.

Republican State Convention.

LOUISVILLE, May 17.—The Republican State Convention at Frankfort to-day nominated the following ticket: For Governor, Gen. Jno. M. Harlan, of Jefferson; Lieutenant-Governor, Gen. M. Thomas, of Lewes; Attorney General, Wm. Brown, of Fayette; Treasurer, General Speed, of Fry-Boyle; Auditor, Wm. Krippenstapel, of the Louisville Volksblatt; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Rev. W. E. Mobley, of Todd; Register of Land Office, J. McCleary, of Rock Castle.

CINCINNATI.

Arrested for Forgery.

CINCINNATI, May 17.—Harry Schroeder was arrested for forgery committed in New York on Clemens Askamp, and committed to jail as a fugitive from justice. He was before a probate judge this morning on a writ of habeas corpus, claiming the commitment illegal. The Court held the commitment legal and remanded the prisoner.

A Jail Burned.

WHEELING, VA., May 17.—The county jail at Charleston was destroyed by fire on Monday night.

Two fire bugs were arrested here last night. They were caught in the act of throwing fire balls into a store. One, John Quinn, a puddler is from Cleveland, and the other, John Norton s from Steubenville.

The following is from a collection of queer epitaphs, and is decidedly queer:

Here is the body of poor Chas. Lamb.
Killed by the fall of a tree slap bang,
On him while he was drinking a cup of
Pier, Dannals & Co's ale,
Which was the end of the last Lamb's tail.

THE LEASE of the New Jersey Railroad to the Pennslvyania Central has not yet been fully consummated, but probably will be next week, at which time the whole subject will be referred to the stockholders of the former companies.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Beaver Argus professes to have discovered that the Apportionment bill was a scheme originating with Cameron and Mackey to favor the Democracy. That is refreshing indeed, in view of the fact that the opposition has control of the Senate. The Argus has not yet recovered from its cephalic sores, but splashes away at Mackey and Cameron, whenever the slightest pretext is afforded.

IT IS for Louisville to foster and maintain the old spirit of hatred towards the blacks. The several street car companies persistently and absolutely refuse to carry colored passengers, and although the law has decided against them they will not yield, and rather than to do so have withdrawn and thrown out of service their rolling stock. Such narrow-minded prejudice may suit Louisville but it is looked upon outside of that Southern village as mean and contemptible, and unworthy the day in which we live.

FRANCE has been so long in a state of unrest and excitement, disorder and riot, that the world has almost ceased to speculate as to what will come out of the political chaos. Republicanism it is quite certain will not bloom and thrive just at this period in that unhappy land. The people seem determined to teach the world by their acts that they are unprepared for any other form of government than that which will rule them with an iron hand. It is more than probable that a monarchy will be re-established and the restoration of the dynasty of Napoleon every day grows more apparent. If the French could only stop to think, the skies of France might promise a brighter day.

AN INFORMATION was made yesterday against two of our County Commissioners, Messrs. McGee and Neely, by Joseph Dilworth, Esq., charging them with having received bribes for which they granted licenses to undeserving persons. We are not aware of the nature of the evidence against the accused, who have hitherto enjoyed high reputation in this community, but we are thoroughly anxious that the charges be investigated and that vindication or retribution should follow without delay. There have been so many rumors in the air touching on the manner and mode of transacting business in the Commissioner's office, that we are glad that an opportunity will be afforded to demonstrate either the truth or falsity of the damaging assertions and insinuations afloat.

SETTLING IN THE WEST.

We herewith present the experiences of a soldier who has embraced the privilege of settling in the West under the homestead law, and who, for the benefit of his comrades, writes from Kansas to an exchange newspaper. He says that he located a homestead of 160 acres in Dickinson county, within fourteen miles of the Kansas Pacific Railroad. His homestead cost him $18.50; he has to live on it five years, and at the expiration of that period, if he can prove that he has not been absent from it more than six months at one time, he can get a patent for it from Government, and it is then his to dispose of as he thinks proper. The only advantage the soldier has over the citizen in this matter is, that he can take under the Homestead law 160 acres of land within twenty miles of railroad to which land grants have been made, while the citizen can take only 80 acres. But outside of railroad limits there is no distinction. Water is found there by digging at an average depth of forty feet. Timber is scarce and lumber expensive. Horses are high, but Indian ponies can be bought at from $30 to $60 each. They are good for herding or for common light service. Texas cattle can be bought, one year old, at $5 to $6; two years old, $10 to $12; three years old, 15$ to $20. They are generally very poor when they arrive in the State, but prairie grass is plenty, and they soon improve in condition; purchasers often double their money on them in a single year. Railroad lands are selling from $3 to 7$ per acre,

CHARTIERS VALLEY RAILROAD --FORMAL OPENING TO-DAY.

There is no better index to the material wealth and progress of our nation, and the extent of our inter-State commerce, than the rapidity with which we have built railroads, from east to west, and from north to South, during the past forty years. Forty-five years ago, we believe, there was not a single railway in the United States over which freight and passengers were carried. In 1827 a few miles were built and this seemed to satisfy for a time the demand of the public and the ambition of capitalists. It was not until 1850 that a railroad was opened between Albany and Buffalo, New York. In that year there were not ten thousand miles of railway in operation in the United States. During the past few years we have made rapid progress in railroad building. For some time we have been constructing them at the rate of five thousand miles a year. Now, it is said, we have 54,500 miles of railroad in operation, the cost of which is more than $2,500,000,000, an amount larger than our national debt. Their earnings are more than $4,000,000,000 per annum. By means of them 125,000,000 tons of freight are transported, annually, from place to place.

Between thirty and forty years ago a number of railroads were projected which have only been brought to completion in 1871. Among these is the Chartiers Valley Railroad, between Pittsburgh and Washington, Pennsylvania, or, more correctly speaking perhaps, between Mansfield and Washington. It is about forty years since this line was first surveyed from a point on the Ohio river, a few miles below Pittsburgh, to the borough of Washington. Its progress has been slow, but its completion will not be hailed by us and the thrifty and industrious people that live along its line, with less delight on this account. We therefore tender our hearty congratulations to our friends in Mansfield, Canonsburg and Washington on the accomplishment of the enterprise for which they have labored so long and perseveringly, and which must be to them not only a source of pleasure, but great commercial benefit. With the strong iron ligaments which now bind us more firmly together we extend, most cordially, the right hand of fellowship.

We found it a difficult task to obtain exact dates and figures in regard to the Chartiers Valley Railroad. But for all practical purposes we suppose that those we present are sufficiently accurate. The line, extending from the mouth of Chartiers creek on the Ohio river to the borough of Washington, was surveyed as early as about the year 1830. The survey was made by General De Hass, under the auspices of Judge Baird.

But the Chartiers Valley Railroad Company was not chartered until between the years 1851 and 1853. The capital stock was $500,000, which was subscribed by the boroughs of Washington and Canonsburg, the county of Allegheny, the city of Pittsburgh and individuals along the line.

We understand that the following gentlemen composed the first Board of Directors: J. K. Moorehead, Jacob Painter, D. T. Morgan, William Park, Daniel Houston, Geo. W. Jackson, and Major John H. Ewing. The Board was duly organized in 1853, when General Moorehead was elected President of the Company, and D. T. Morgan, who afterwards became a contractor on the road, was appointed Secretary.

The present location of the line differs somewhat from that made in the original survey of General De Hass. The Company when first organized had a line surveyed from Washington to Mansfield, at which point it was to connect with the Pittsburgh and Steubenville Railroad, now called the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis, or Pan Handle Railway.

The grading commenced in 1854, under the direction of D. Mitchell, Chief Engineer of the Pittsburgh and Steubenville road, and was prosecuted with commendable energy, for about two years, at the expiration of which time the greatest portion of the work was completed. The great financial crisis of 1857, and other matters interfered with the completion of the Pittsburgh and Steubenville road, and as there was no immediate prospect of its being completed, and the Chartiers Valley road had purchased the perpetual right to run its trains over it from Mansfield to Pittsburgh for the consideration of $75,000, work was stopped also on the latter line.

A number of mortgage bonds having been sold for the purpose of raising money to carry on the work on the Chartiers Valley, and everything having come to a dead-lock, some of the bondholders became uneasy, and the result was that the mortgages were foreclosed and the road was sold in 1867 to a company, most of the members of which resided in Philadelphia. A new organization was effected and the following gentlemen were elected a Board of Directors: George B. Roberts, F. B. Penniman, Wm. J. Howard, John Scott, Thos. S. Clarke and Edward Smith.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company proposed that if the citizens of Pittsburgh, Washington and Canonsburg, and those living along the line would subscribe $300,000 they would finish the road to Washington. This sum was subsequently reduced to $250,000, all of which we understand was subscribed, and the terms of payment, about which there was some dispute for a time, were finally adjusted to the satisfaction of all parties. This new organization, and the liberal terms of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company infused new energy into the enterprise, and the work of construction was prosecuted to completion with commendable vigor, and to-day our good friends in Washington, Canonsburg and along the line rejoice with the citizens of Pittsburgh in the formal opening of the road for freight and passenger traffic.

The Chartiers Valley Railroad opens up one of the richest farming and mining districts of country to be found anywhere, and the facilities which it will give for intercommunication between the different points along its line must greatly enhance the value of property lying contiguously to it.

The citizens of Canonsburg are all familiar to the inhabitants of Pittsburgh, and are highly and deservedly spoken of for their moral and social worth. Jefferson College, which has had its seat in their borough since 1803, is the alma mater of many a distinguished statesman, theologian, physician and lawyer, and those of them who are still living cherish the fondest recollections of the venerable but humble edifice in which their genius first received the impetus which sent them on a brilliant career of fame and renown.

The borough of Washington, the Southern terminus of the road, has a population of about four thousand five hundred souls. It is the seat of Washington College, which was established about the year 1804. It has also a flourishing Female Seminary. It can boast of several extensive manufactories. A foundry is in full blast within its limits. It has a steam grist mill, a woolen and three carriage factories. It does a large business in dry goods, groceries and country produce. There is a coal shaft within fifty feet of the borough line, from which an abundant supply of fuel for all purposes can be procured. The coal vein is an extension of that which crops out on Saw Mill Run, and is equal, if not superior, to it in quality. The town crowns the top of a considerable summit which slopes gracefully to the North, South, East and West. And then as to the people, they are as highly educated, and substantial as can be found in any town of the same size in any State. We are indebted to Washington county for some of the brightest ornaments that adorn our Pittsburgh bar. Some of our most skillful physicians, enterprising merchants and worthy citizens hail from the same county. The citizens of the borough are a most kind and hospitable people, as our friends who may go to celebrate the formal opening to-day will learn before they return. If we were seeking for a home we do not know any place that we would prefer to that same borough, which is destined to rival in some respects its distinguished namesake of "magnificent distances."

The depot of the Chartiers Valley railroad is built on the estate of our fellow townsman, Harry Shirls, Esq., proprietor of the St. Charles Hotel, the extensive grounds for which he donated to the Company with his characteristic liberality. The value of the grounds and other facilities donated by Mr. Shirls to the Charters Valley Company amount, we are informed, to the munificent sum of ten thousand dollars.

The people of Canonsburg and Washton are greatly indebted to Judge Mc Kennan, D. C. Houston, Marshal Murdoch, Harry Shirls and Major John H. Ewing, for the indefatigable and persevering efforts put forth by them for the completion of the Chartiers Valley Road. These gentlemen, and especially Major Ewing clung most tenaciously to the enterprise, even when they had to hope against hope. It affords us no little satisfaction that they will this day realize a long cherished hope, and begin to reap the fruits of their long earnest and persistent labors. We must not omit to mention in this connection, that at an early period in the history of the Chartiers Company, S. F. Von Bonhorst, Esq., rendered eminent service to it in the capacity of Secretary.

There is an item of history connected with this road which is worthy of reproduction here. At one time, during the old organization an effort was made to consolidate the Chartiers Valley Railroad with the Hempfield Railroad and the Marietta and Cincinnati road, with the view of making a direct line to Cincinnati, the consolidated lines to be called the Ohio Valley Railroad. A charter was obtained for this purpose, but the condition of the Marietta and Cincinnati road was such at the time that the arrangement could not be consummated. If it had been, it would have given a railroad line to Cincinnati of not very much greater length than that of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis road, and would have afforded railroad facilities to an isolated section of the State of Ohio, which has now to depend, in a great measure, on the uncertainties of river navigation. It is thought by some that this connection will yet be made.

There may be found wanting in the above remarks some important links and items, but we made all diligence to give as full and correct an account as possible of this important branch of railroad which will this day be formally dedicated to public traffic. Having failed to reach some sources of information which we expected to avail ourselves of, we have done the best in our power with the material at command.

SUMMER LETTERS.

II.

Jane says our place should have a name. She very truly observes that it is very nice to be able to talk to our acquaintances of "our country seat"—especially if they do not happen to be aware that we have given up our town house—but then how much finer it would sound to be able to say, like the Duke of Devonshire, for instance, "Just run down and spend a week with us at Chatsworth."

It is singular evidence of high civilization and culture when a man wants to occupy two or three domicils at once. Terrence—not the classical gentleman—coming from a mud hovel in the Emerald Isle, is glad to have a shanty and potato patch of his own. But after he has made a few millions in the trade of politics, and has grown old and grand, the Hon. Terrence's grand-daughters are not content unless they have at least a palace on a fashionable avenue, a chateau some place in the country, and an ornamental cottage on the borders of the bounding sea—to say nothing of a room for a few weeks in a hotel at the Springs. This is the effect of American civilization. If Terrence had staid in Ireland, his grand-daughters would have been comfortably discontented with the mud hovel.

Jane suggested at first that we should call our estate the Mountain Manse. I objected to this because our home is in a valley, and Jane, although she said that that didn't make the slightest difference as it was not the fashion to think of that sort of a thing in naming a place, respected my little prejudices and asked me how I thought Verdant Vale would do,

I told her it was apt and very pretty, having a poetic sort of alliterativeness about it which reminded me of our great authoresses, Mollie May, Bessie Bramble, Jenny June, Ninny November and others, but I said I must object on altogether different gronnds. I told her that she knew of old, my prejudice against that article of feminine gear which the name suggested.

This was gotten over at once, however, by that remarkable woman, who said she would translate the name into French, which would at once destroy all reference to green veils and be much more modish.

I had made up my mind to have a dog. A dog is a faithful animal, who rushes into snow drifts and hauls you out just before you perish. He also hauls the scavenger's cart for him, before our national civilization has elevated that person to the necessity of having a knock-kneed horse instead. Cases have been known of dogs living amicably in a lions den.

Animated by such reflections, I came home one evening and said: "my inestimable Jane, what is the use of belonging to the higher orders of animated nature, if we have none of the lower orders depending upon us? What would be the use of a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals; if there were no animals to be cruel to? Jane, we must have a dog!"

I had no difficulty in showing her how useful such a noble animal would be in case we should happen to be snowed up next winter, but she sat silent, all through our evening meal, and afterwards, when I was fairly settled to my cigar and book and she was done her evening labor of defending as much of our crockery from the ruthless hands of our washer of dishes, as she well could, she came to me and said that she was very sorry but the dog would interfere with one of our very longest cherished plans. She reminded me of how we had often talked of living in the country and having a beautiful mead upon which snowy lambs should gambol while she, dressed in a pink and white petticoat, with a blue one bunched up over it, and a flat straw hat on her head, should watch them, singing to me as I lay at her feet clad in a similar hat and a pink coat, and knee breeches. And both should have crooks and she should call me Strephon while I would call her Daphne or Chloe or Topsy.

Then she read to me from a newspaper how many innocent sheep had been killed in the United States and San Domingo by dogs, and I saw at once that the dog must be given up.

One of the advantages of living in the country is, that you have a chance of eluding the demon of dyspepsia, because you do not eat so much as you do in town. You have to hurry so in the morning to catch the train that you miss your breakfast. It is a singular fact that trains and country breakfasts come at the same time, a coincidence which I mean to investigate when I get a little time.

Jane, having had the cistern scrubbed out wanted to have it filled and we all got to work with buckets and carried water from the spring to the tank in the top of the house. We got tired before it was nearly half full, and the water, though very clean and nice, disappointed us when we tried to wash in it.

Our neighbor says that it is because it is hard water and that rain water is what we want in the cistern. I could scarcely keep from laughing at him, knowing that all water is rain water, but as he insisted, so, we again emptied the tank and waited for rain, which came the other day, and the tank is now full, but the water is just as dirty as ever. I think this is because it comes from the roof and I must have the roof scrubbed.

We have a friend named Roderick, who likes to be called a philosopher. He comes out frequently, and he and Jane and I sit in the library and smoke and put our feet up, and lament over the ignorance of the people.

Roderick is a fine fellow, a very fine fellow, indeed. But he has his failings. He says curt things in jerky sentences and calls them epigrams. And then he is a long, lean, lanky, sallow man, but he thinks he is tall, slender and interesting looking. The words you use make a good deal of difference sometimes.

The other evening Roderick was sitting with us, and we talked of our place. Jane said. "It is nice that the place is so new, for we can now grow old with it." "Yes," said Roderick, "and how you will laugh at the follies of the present when you both sit here greyhaired and decrepit." "Old fools are more foolish than young ones," said I. Roderick assen d, but said there are so many young fools who do not grow up to be old ones.

"Few people are qualified to be old," said I.

"True," remarked Jane, "but how few people ever get to be old," and Roderick chimed in that he hoped to live to give good advice to our grandchildren, whereon I said that "old age gives good advice when it is no longer able to give bad example."

This exasperated our friend, who said I talked like a fool, and getting up in a huff, he went away and rode to town on a freight train. Jane too, said that I seemed to be very sharp with Roderick tonight. But the truth was that I learned a few of La Rochefoucauld's maxims off by heart the other day, and this was the first chance that I had to make use of my learning.

It would seem that, however great your learning may be, it is not always well to drag it into use.

I am fond of a good cigar. In fact I am fond of a good many of them, but every pleasure in this world has its accompanying sorrow, and the sorrow of the smoker comes when the cigars go and he sees the box, once so full of capabilities of delight, empty and but another emblem of the fact that all is vanity. This is especially true in the environs. Last night I went into my library and getting out my book, hauled up an easy chair in front of the bright little fire, prepared to spend a long evening of charming, lazy comfort. Then I opened my cigar box, and remembered all at once, that I smoked the last cigar the night before.

I have been brought up to think that profanity is ungentlemanly, unchristian and unnecessary, but I think there must be a great deal of pure satisfaction, in a case like this, in thinking with much emphasis of the obstructions placed across small streams by that curious and intelligent animal, the beaver.

I had to take off the slippers, covered with little black demons, on a red worsted ground, which Jane worked for me, and, after pulling on my boots, walk more than half a mile to the nearest store, where I bought six of the man's best cigars for twenty-five cents. As I walked home again I reflected on the economy of living in the country. In town, at my tobacconists, I should only have gotten one of his best cigars for that money.

When I got home, I had quite a landed estate clinging to my boots. I wonder if I lived outside of the city limits if there would not be some board walks! I think they must call them the limits because the advantages are so limited.

I hauled all the acres—excepting a corn or two—off with my boots, and again settled into comfort. Then our neighbor dropped in, and we both lighted cigars. Mine was not good. Pretty soon Jane came in and we had a pleasant talk. Our neighbor says he thinks we are not accustomed to living out of town.

It is singular how soon the superior intelligence incident to city culture is apparent.

After the excellent man had gone, Jane said that she liked to be sociable and neighborly but that she wished that I would provide our country visitors with cigars hereafter, for there was a vile odor clinging around the room. She wondered how people could smoke such villainous stuff.

Perhaps, if it had not been for that our neighbor might have stayed longer.

This morning Jane remarked to me that, that mans cigar smoke hung around her curtains and that the odor was one of the most abominable she could imagine, so that she will have to have the curtains washed. Thus are our sins of omission and commission visited upon us. For I do not like to have the curtains washed—at least they may wash them as much as they please but I do not like to have them dried; because Jane has them pinned down on sheets which are spread out upon our bed room floor, and I am compelled to walk about my own chamber on the narrow strip of carpet which is left exposed to view close to the wall, and which is always thickly sown with pins. It takes all the pleasure away from making one's toilette in the morning, to have to creep along half a foot of carpet, up against a cold wall, and I know that by the day after to-morrow I shall have been copiously bled in the feet.

People used to ask, in a knowing, philosophical way, "Where do all the pins go to?" About half of them go to the edges of carpets on which curtains have been pinned down. A large number of the remainder are used to pin tidies to chairs where men's natural instincts would lead them to forget pins. And most of the remainder are either stuck into the stuffed backs and arms of sofas or into the bosoms of the calico dresses of cooks.

There are never any of them in the pin cushions about a house in the environs; any more than there are ever any matches in the match stands.

SYLVANUS.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

SOUTH SIDE, May 16th, 1871.

EDITORS GAZETTE: Respected Sirs.—We cheerfully endorse your article of the 13th inst., (Weekly GAZETTE,) in regard to County Commissioner. We do want the best man we can get of the number that is now before the great Republican party of Allegheny county, for Commissioner. Whilst we would not pluck a laurel, nor cast a single reflection upon the business, moral or political character of Mr. Joseph Dilworth, of our city, we think that in Wm. H. Clark, of North Fayette Township, we have all the requisites for the position; a man who we know will dare to do right without fear or favor. He has always been an active Republican, true to its cause. Never to our knowledge has he halted in the interests of the party. We might eulogize upon his moral character, but forbear. Suffice it to say, we would not have written this much if we did not know the man. Furthermore we claim that the South Side is entitled to the Commissioner this time. We hope our friend Dilworth, will hold over for the next year, at which time the Central District will be in regular order. Some do expect that, and hope that the Northern and Central Districts will do us the justice to accede it to us.

JUSTICE.

FEDERAL STREET EXTENSION.

EDITORS GAZETTE: When the law was enacted that street improvements should be paid for by those whose property was specially benefited, instead of being as before, a charge upon the city treasury, we all acquiesced, because the principle was just; and under the operation of that law we have graded and paved an immense surface within a few years and paid for it. But now, when certain persons find themselves the owners of many acres of hill land away beyond Federal street, and wish to greatly increase its value, they come before the Councils and ask for a special law to make the whole city pay for their street. By what principle of right and justice the Councils agree to this is beyond comprehension. To us, who have paid for our own street openings and pavings, the entire project looks like a gigantic swindle for the private benefit of a few wealthy men.

POLITICAL.

MR. R. P. SPAULDING, one of the host of suggested candidates for Governor of Ohio, openly opposes the renomination of President Grant.

AN Alabama journalist hears "of the demise of many dogs in Madison, killed by incessant barking at Democratic candidates passing around."

THE Montgomery (Ala.) Journal endorses the Atlanta (Ga.) Era's nomination of Hon. Amos T. Akerman for Vice-President on the ticket with Grant.

THE Senate has confirmed the nomination of John M. Francis, of New York, to be Minister Resident at Greece in place of Mr. Tuckerman, recalled at his own request.

THE Galveston News concludes an article on "The Dilemma of the Democracy" by saying that, in order to successfully fight the Radicals, "we (the Democracy) must take the Constitution as it is, and do the best we can with it and under it."

DR. WM. GWIN, one time member of Congress from Mississippi, later a Senator from California, and then a Mexican Duke, is now said to be a candidate for the United States Senate again, as successor to Senator Cole, whose term expires in 1873.

STATE SENATOR L. B. JENKS, of Louisiana, has published a card in the New Orleans papers, in which he says that his "attempt at suicide" was nothing more than the result of the careless handling of firearms, all statements to the contrary notwithstanding.

THE local elections in Kentucky have resulted very satisfactorily to the Republicans. Several cities were wrested from the Democrats; and in others the Republican vote was largely increased. Lexington, Frankfort, Paris, Danville, Harrodsburg, and Nicholasville elected Republican officers.

THE New Orleans Bee frankly says that it is not willing to assign the duty of constructing the Democratic platform to the members of the party in the Northern States—that the Southern Democrats must be consulted in the matter, and that they should not be understood as accepting the situation.

THE system of minority representation is to be tried in the approaching election for ten Overseers of Harvard College. The system to be tried is that of Mr. Hare, of England, which consists in allowing each citizen to vote, in addition to the candidate for whom he desired to cast his vote in the first instance, for one or more candidates, to whom his vote may be given in case it is not wanted to secure the election of his first choice. The voter puts the name of the candidates on his ticket in the order of his preference, and, if his vote should not be wanted for his first candidate, it is transferred to the second, and so on.

A correspondent of The New York Herald has had a conversation with Gov. Caldwell of North Carolina about the Ku-Klux. The Governor told him that the published reports of the Ku-Klux outrages were by no means exaggerated; that the eastern counties were pretty quiet, but that many of the western counties were in a dreadful condition. He received letters almost every day from some point or other telling him of this man whipped, or that man shot or hanged.—The Democrats visited by the same correspondent acknowledged the outrages of the Ku-Klux, but said that if a negro got 12 lashes, he exaggerated the number to 200

The Newly Discovered Caves in England.

The digested report of the explorers of the Ribblesdale caves will correct many false impressions as to the social condition of England after the withdrawal of the Roman legions. The caves were evidently used as places of refuge by Romano-Celtic inhabitants who had fled from their comparatively luxurious homes before the incursions of the northern tribes. Numerous brooches and armlets have been found in the upper strata of debris, and from their workmanship, as well as the coins that have been exhumed, the period of occupation may be fixed with tolerable accuracy. It probably extended from the middle of the fifth till late in the seventh century. Few districts in England could have better served for concealment than the region between the Mersey and the Ribble, in which, at the Domesday survey, a quarter of a million of acres were covered with a network of separate and dense woods. In the lower strata of these caves indications of an earlier occupation have been found. Two flint flakes, a bone harpoon, and the remains of red deer and bear point to an era long anterior to the Roman invasion.

TO RUPTURED PERSONS.

We have often said, and now repeat, that persons who have any rupture or condition requiring mechanical support, that there is no better place that can be found than that of Dr. Keyser, of 167 Liberty street. We have not only known rupture relieved, but we have seen crooked spine and varicose veins treated with the most perfect success at the same place, and we would advise our readers to cut this out and go no where else when they need such services, and we do so with the full assurance that they will get full satisfaction. The Doctor has had an experience of over thirty-five years in the treatment of rupture, and it would be more than singular if in that time he had not acquired an entire mastery over that terrible and now common malady. The Doctor is now called in all difficult cases of rupture. Remember his office, 167 Liberty street.

PERSECUTED ORGAN.

The human stomach has been a shamefully persecuted organ. There was a time when for every dereliction of duty it was punished with huge doses of the most disgusting and nauseous drugs. In vain it rejected them and literally returned them upon the hands of those who administered them. They were forced upon it again and again until its solvent power was thoroughly drenched out of it.

The world is wiser now than it was in that drastic era, when furious purgation and mercurial salivation were what Artemus Ward would have called the "main holt" of the faculty, in cases of dyspepsia and liver complaint.

The great modern remedy for indigestion and biliousness is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a preparation which has the merit of combining a palatable flavor with such tonic, aperient and antibilious properties, as were never heretofore united in any medicine.

It has been discovered at last, that sick people are not like the fabled Titans, who found prostration so refreshing that, when knocked down, they rose from earth twice as vigorous as before. When an invalid is prostrated by powerful depleting drugs, he is apt to stay prostrated; and the debilitated being aware of the fact, prefer the building up to the knocking down system of treatment.

Hostetter's Bitters meets the requirements of the rational medical philosophy which at present prevails. It is a perfectly pure vegetable remedy, embracing the three important properties of a preventive, a tonic, and an alterative. It fortifies the body against disease, invigorates and revitalizes the torpid stomach and liver, and effects a most salutary change in the entire system, when in a morbid condition.

In this country where the enfeebling temperature renders the human organization particularly susceptible to unwholesome atmospheric influences, the Bitters should be taken as a protection against epidemic disease.

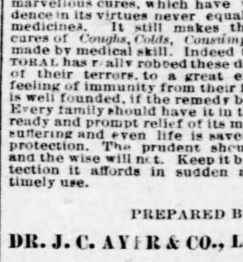
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS, SUCH AS COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA AND CONSUMPTION.



The few composition which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

MONEY AND COMMERCE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, May 17 1871.

Money continues steady, with but a comparatively light demand for loans. The banks are busy paying out their May dividends to fortunate share holders, but notwithstanding appear to have the means to satisfy all reasonable loan demands from their customers.

The local stock market remains quiet and inactive. The few first class investments offered, and quickly picked up at anything like reasonable figures.

A. V. RR. bonds are offered at 95, but we can hear of no sales above 94½, we have an enquiry for the stock and $30 per share bid for a limited amount the same price was bid for a few shares of Pittsburgh & Connellsville.

The auction sale of Pittsburgh & Birmingham Bridge stock at $36,50, was the first sale for some months past, and a very fair price for a valuable stock whose par value is $25 share.

No transactions in Columbia Oil stock today—$15 per share was bid.

The New York market is moderately active but prices are irregular. Erie is attracting the most attention. The disclaimer of Gould, Fisk & Co. of an intended sale to Vanderbilt is disbelieved. This evening's quotations, 30⅛, are the highest made for many months, and should the sale be made, higher prices are confidently expected. Gold and Government bonds are both advancing under the stimulus of large shipments of coin.

The New York Evening Post says: "The special features of the stock market to-day are Erie and Union Pacific, both of which have been strong at advanced prices. The move in Erie is a puzzle to the street, and many theories are advanced to account for it. One is that Mr. Vanderbilt is buying the stock to obtain a controlling interest; another that there has been a disagreement between the present managers, and that the Tweed interest is working to oust the Gould and Fisk party, the Tweed interest having identified itself with that of Mr. Vanderbilt. Both of these theories which imply that Mr. Vanderbilt is seeking control by means of purchasing a majority of the stock, seems improbable. Mr. Vanderbilt is a large bondholder and if he seriously intends to get possession of the road he could do so with less expense by virtue of his rights as a bondholder. The exercise of these rights would of course follow the default of interest on the bonds. Our impression is that the movement has been made by the Erie management themselves and that it may have an indirect bearing on the present litigation with the English stockholders."

—We clip the following from the New York Bulletin of Tuesday: There is some excitement among dealers over the failure of Messrs. Stoker, Bently & Co., who have been running a large mill at Waterbury, Ct., and another at Worehouse Point. It seems that the firm with nothing in particular to recommend them have been sold wool freely by several large houses here, and now suspend payment with liabilities amounting to $250,000, it is said, while their assets are not stated. We do not learn that the firm are accused of any unfair dealings, but their creditors are rather sore since these losses might have been avoided had they been less ready to give credit without suitable security. Several of our leading houses are the creditors of Messrs. Stoker, Bently & Co., to the amount of $10,000 each. A meeting of the creditors is to be held at Hartford to-morrow (Tuesday.)

NEW YORK, May 17, 1871.

Gold was very strong at 111⅜@111⅝. Loans were made at from 1 per cent. for carrying to 1, 2 and 3 per cent. for use. Clearings, $29,-000,000; double eagles remain at a premium of ⅜@⅝. Governments were strong and higher. the Treasury office here distributed $1,500,000 of the new 5 per cent. bonds to-day. At the Treasury the purchase offerings were $4,877,-000; awards $27,000,000 at from 111.23 to 111.49; the bonds bought will be paid for in National Bank currency, which is at a discount of ⅛@⅜. Stocks have been active and strong, with Erie, Union Pacific, Northwestern and Lake Shore as the features. The improvement in Northwestern was based on the expectation of a five per cent. dividend on both classes of stock. The report that $1,500,-000 will be soon divided among the stockholders of Lake Shore was revived again to-day and some credence seemed to be given to the rumor. The Erie speculation continues a puzzle to the street, and a number of speculative rumors are in circulation concerning the road. Reading advanced, on favorable reports from the coal regions. Express stocks were lower to-day on American and Wells & Fargo and strong on Adams and United States; the market closed strong and well up to the highest point of the day. Money was plentiful at 4 per cent. Southern State bonds were dull and firm.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, May 17, 1871.

ASHES—Common Soda Ash, 4½@4¾; refined do, 4½@4¾; Pearls, 9@9½; Pots, 7⅛@7½.

APPLES—Market almost bare, and the demand is very light; occasional small sales, at $5@7 per bbl.

BUTTER—The market is quiet and devoid of any new characteristics worthy of special notice; as noted in our last report, the receipts have fallen off somewhat but the supply continues in excess of the demand and prices are unchanged; 15@18 for fair to prime and 20 for choice—but few sales being made above 18.

BROOM CORN—Is still reported dull but unchanged, 4@6 cts, as to quality and condition.

BEANS—Dull; $1,25@1,75 per bushel.

BEESWAX—Quoted at 28@30 cts.

CANDLES—Quoted at 12 cts for mould, and 19 for star.

CEMENT—Louisville, $2,50@2,75 per bbl; Johnstown, $2,25; Rosendale, $4,00@4,50; Calcined Plaster, $4,50; Land Plaster, $3,50@3,75.

CANNED GOODS—There is considerable of a range in prices, as there is a good deal of difference in the quality of goods. We give the range as follows: Peaches, 2 lb cans, $2,-00@2,50 per dozen; 3 lb, $3,00@3,50. Tomatoes, 3 lb cans, $2,50@2,70. Winslow's Corn, $2,50@2,75.

CARBON OIL—Is quiet and unchanged—22 cts for standard brands, in a jobbing way, and 23 for small lots.

CORN MEAL—Is quiet; small sales, in store, at 85@90 cts per bushel.

CHEESE—Has dropped ⅜ a cent per lb, and we now quote prime Ohio Goshen at 15⅜ and Factory at 14⅜.

COUNTRY BACON—The market for country meat continues dull but there is no quotable change in prices; shoulders 6@6½; ribbed sides, 7@7½c; clear sides, 8@8½c; hams, 10@12. Country Lard, 9@10½, as to quality and condition.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches scarce and the demand is better; quarters, 10@11; mixed, 12@14; halves, 14@15; peeled, 16@17. Prime bright apples in better demand and scarce—may be quoted at 7 cts; common, in good supply and dull.

EGGS—With only moderate receipts and an improved demand the market is firmer, though there is no further advance; we continue to quote at 15@16—dealers generally refusing to sell fresh below the outside quotation.

FEATHERS—Scarce and in demand, with sales of No. 1 live geese feathers at 74@75—usual advance in a small way.

FLOUR—The market is firmer and more active, the demand having improved, but there is no change to make in quotations. We continue to quote at $6.75@7,00 for fair to good spring extras; $7,25 for choice Minnesota baker's flour; $6,75@7,00 for good red winter wheat; and $7,25@7,50 for white. Rye Flour, for small lots in store, $6,25.

GREEN TRUCK—Sales of new potatoes at $7,00@8,00 per bbl; cabbage, at $3,50@4,00; peas $6,00@7,00. Strawberries, 25 cts per quart.

GRAIN—There is a steady milling demand for wheat, and with a continued light receipts the market is firm and all that offers is taken readily at quotations, $1,40@1,45 for red, and $1,50@1,55 for white—a round lot of strictly No. 1 might bring a shade more. Oats continue scarce and firm, and the tendency is still upward; we quote at 58@59 buying, and 60@61 selling—small lots 63@65. Corn is quiet and unchanged; mixed ear and shelled, 68@70, and prime yellow 71@72; supply light and receipts limited but then the demand is only moderate. There is little or nothing doing in Rye—none coming in; $1,00 still seems to be regarded as the ruling price, but a round lot could not be had for less than $1,05. The receipts of Barley are also very light, and there is no stock in the hands of dealers; we continue to quote nominally at 80@85 for sprink and 90@95 fall.

GROCERIES—Coffee is weak, except in the higher grades which are scarce and held firmly at the recent decline. Low grades are obtained easily from an abundant stock at our quotations. The opinion prevails that the bottom has been reached, and that no loss can occur from purchases made now. If the reports from the east are correctly stated a reaction will most likely take place, as the importers are now sustaining a loss of fully 1c per lb, while job lots are selling at lower rates, relatively, than cargoes. It is said that importing houses have countermanded late orders in view of this state of facts, and that in a short time stocks will be materially reduced and, consequently, prices stiffened. Sugars have declined—refined ⅛c per lb, and raws ⅛c per lb., since our last general report, and it is difficult to foretell the future in this article. Some dealers are of the opinion that a still further reduction will be made while others think that the lowest prices are now seen. The dull business prevailing in all quarters, with large stocks of sugars held east and west, will probably cause owners to let go—the sugar market is decidedly ruling in favor of buyers. Syrups are in sympathy, but not fully, with sugars and a slight decline has been experienced with no disposition by holders to push off stocks at a loss. New Orleans molasses are firm and stocks of choice goods light. Foreign molasses are better.

COFFEE—Fancy Rio, 19; Prime, 18; Good, 17; Fair, 16⅜; Roasting, 16@16⅜.

SYRUPS AND DRIPS—White Honey, 72; Havemeyer & Elders, 72; Silver Drips, 60; Lovecings, 65; other grades, 45@55.

SUGARS—Choice New Orleans, 11⅜; prime, 11¼ good, 10¾; fully fair, 10⅜; Porto Rico Sugars, 10⅜@11⅜; Cuba, 10@11; Demarara, 11⅜@12⅜.

REFINED SUGARS—Hard Sugars, 14; A Coffee, 13; "B," 12¾; Extra C, 12⅜; C. yellow, 12⅛.

MOLASSES—New Orleans, choice, 70; prime, 58; good, 65.

PITTSBURGH CATTLE MARKET.

EAST LIBERTY STOCK YARDS, WEDNESDAY, May 17, 1871.

CATTLE.

The receipts thus far this week have not been large, and with an average attendance of eastern buyers and a number of country butchers, the market has been moderately active and all that offered have been sold, but there has been no improvement in prices, and unless something unforseen takes place, it is not likely that there will be any advance for sometime to come. It is argued that the low price of hogs, as well as the probability of a decline in sheep, must have a tendency to keep cattle down, and a decline is more likely than an advance. As will be seen by reference to the report of sales, there was nothing sold up to 7 cts, but it is probable that strictly prime fat cattle would have brought that figure; several lots of very good shipping cattle changed hands at prices ranging from 6.60 to 6,85, while the common to medium grades run from 6,00 to 6,25. Very few stock cattle offering, and there is not much inquiry for them at the prices they can be sold at, 5⅜@5⅜. The sales thus far this week aggregate 387 head, and to-day there are very few in the pens unsold.

SHEEP.

The arrivals have been large thus far this week, and buyers, in anticipation of a further decline, are disposed to hold off; clipped may be quoted at 3⅜@5⅜, for common to extra, and wooled at 5⅜@7. It was rumored to-day that New York was better, and if this is confirmed, unless the arrivals should increase, it is probable that the market will react before the close of the week.

HOGS.

The hopes entertained last week that hogs had touched bottom have not yet been realized, as the market continues dull and weak with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, and prices have still further declined. We now quote at 4⅜@5⅜, gross, for light to prime heavy, the lowest quotations we have had to record for at least ten years, and even at these prices buyers are taking hold sparingly, being apprehensive of a still further decline.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The opening of the new retail Yards, which takes places on Monday next, is causing considerable commotion in stock circles, and that there will be a sharp rivalry between the new Yards here and the old ones in Allegheny is certain. What the result will be it is difficult at this time to predict with any degree of correctness, but there is one thing certain, the butchers will go wherever they can get the cheapest cattle.

Peter Klemen was about as usual to-day, looking as pleasant as ever, and his appearance did not indicate that anything unusual had occurred. While it was generally supposed that Peter contemplated changing his domestic relations somewhat, it was consummated sooner than was expected. In behalf of a number of his former chums, we bid Peter good-bye.

The firm of Sadler, Haven & Co. has been disolved, Mr. Bates, the silent partner, retiring. The style of the firm now is Sadler & Haven, here, and Fort, Sadler & Co., Cincinnati. We can commend this firm as one of the best at the East Liberty Yards, and, although new here, they are old and experienced stock dealers.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, May 17, 1871.

The oil market continues very quiet both here, above, and in the east, without, however, any material changes to note in prices. There seems to be but little inquiry for crude at quotations, while at the same time, there is no disposition manifested to make concessions in order to effect sales, and this being the case, the volume of business is light, and must continue so until there is a change, one way or the other. Refined is also very quiet, the sales have been very meagre for some days, and it is rumored that most of the eastern operators are more disposed to sell than buy, though, there is no disposition to force the market, either up or down.

CRUDE.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The spring trade is now about over and the stocks of staple fabrics have not only held their price pretty well, but are well cleared up, at least there is no surplus stocks to carry over; dress goods in fancy styles, however, are being closed out as usual towards the end of the season at reduced figures; woolen fabrics are not much sought after at present, but light styles, adapted to the wants of clothiers, possessing any durability, are selling to a fair extent at good enough prices; that heavy woolens for autumn trade will open higher is almost certain on account of the meagre supply offering and the extreme prices prevalent for raw material; printing cloths continue firm, and the demand is said to exceed the supply, but it is a speculative one among the rich printers who endeavor once in a while to grind the small ones to dust; that cloths can be produced at 5⅜c is beyond doubt, and no print will cost over 4c to produce, while many will not cost over 2⅜c, so that in any event printers cannot very well force up the price of their goods beyond present rates—at least if they do sales will drag. Heavy brown sheetings are depressed, at 11c for light weight and 11⅜@12c for full standards; the better class of bleached muslins are steady and firm, as are colored cottons, showing no alteration from previous prices.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ CONSUMPTION.

Its Cure and its Preventive.

BY J. H. SCHENCK, M.D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Sea-weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionary disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but, unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Sea-weed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature can not be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings, it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country, in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of the blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

"As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Resoirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them. First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone for ever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylacteric against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea-weed Tonic $1 50 a bottle, or $7 50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers. apl8:p3-TTHS

☞ SICK AND AFFLICTED, READ! —Time will necessarily be the final test of everything. The many failures pass out of sight and thought; only the few successes are remembered. This is especially true of the science of medicine. A volume would hardly contain the mere names of the medicinal compounds devised during this century, yet the successful ones may be told upon the fingers. Of these latter the best proved are SWAYNE'S FAMILY MEDICINES, which have been tested by more than thirty years of steadily increasing use throughout the globe, and have received the warmest commendation and support from the most enlightened members of the Medical Faculty in every school of practice. my16-TTHS

The above valuable medicines prepared only by Dr. SWAYNE & SON, Philadelphia, and sold at wholesale and retail by McCLARRAN & McKENNAN, Druggists, 85 Market street, and opp. Postoffice, Pittsburgh, and all dealers in medicines everywhere. my16-TTHS

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with 4 feet 2 inches in the channel last evening. There was considerable rain on Tuesday night but not enough to have much influence on the river. Weather yesterday clear and cool.

The Arlington, from Cincinnati, arrived and departed with a very good trip each way.

The Juniata, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Cincinnati to-day, leaving promptly at 4 P. M. Besides taking passengers and freight to all points between here and Cincinnati, she will receipt through to all principal points south and west of Cincinnati both by river and rail.

The towboat Lark arrived yesterday with three new towboat hulls, one each for Jackson, Bro., James Rees and J. V. McDonald.

The Lorena, Capt. Sam Shuman, is filling up steadily for St. Louis.

The Argosy arrived from Wheeling. She reports having met the Comet at Brown's Island.

Capt. Darragh is loading the Belle Vernon for the Upper Mississippi—clear up to St. Paul.

The Ironsides is due from St. Louis. As will be seen by card, she is announced for a return trip.

Capt. Stull, of the Julia, leaves for California on Saturday, on a visit to some relations. He will be accompanied by his better half.

—The Louisville Courier, of Tuesday, says: The J. Sharp McDonald left for Cairo with 17 coalboats and two barges. She will return from there and take 18 more boats from this port, and will take the 37 boats and barges from Cairo to Baton Rouge. Her owner, J. Sharp McDonald, says that his boat will take the largest tow ever towed down the Mississippi.... We also take the following from the same paper: The Grand Lake No. 2 left this port last Friday with 300,000 bushels of coal for Cairo, and returned yesterday, making the quickest trip on record. She made the run from Paducah to this port in 25 hours and 17 minutes. She will leave this morning with 15 coal boats and 2 fuel boats for Bayou Sara.

—Captain Cheneworth, of the steamer Emma Floyd, has the credit of being the first man who ever got the best of Pat Murphy, a well-known newspaper vender of Louisville. While the boat was lying at that port last Sunday, Murphy sold Capt. C. a Cincinnati Commercial. Capt. C. handed him a dollar bill and asked Murphy to give him 90 cents in change. This he did, and the dollar bill also, leaving Murphy minus $1.90 and a paper.

—The Memphis Sun, of Tuesday, has this: The wharfage question is agitating the minds of steamboatmen, and it is predicted that, without a reduction soon, they will follow the example of Captain Cannon, of the R. E. Lee, at New Orleans, and commence suit in the United States Court to make the city refund all moneys collected, under that clause of the Constitution which says "no State shall levy any duty upon tonnage," &c.

—Berry & Williams, of New Orleans, have sued the steamer City of Alton. In obedience to an Admiralty warrant under said suit, the Marshal seized the City of Alton, on the 10th, and advertised that he would condemn and sell said boat if good cause were not shown why she should not be condemned and sold. It is presumed that Capt. E. A. Sheble has already shown good cause for his retaining possession of the boat.

—Captains Wm. Dunshoe, J. Sharp McDonald, John Gumbert, James Watson, James Lynn, John A. Hook, J. S. Wallace, John O. Phillips, James Fawcett, Geo. Lysle, D. A. McDonald, John Smith and John Wilhelm, all of Pittsburgh, are at the Galt House, Louisville, as happy as king bees at the thought of getting their immense fleet of coal over the falls without the loss of a boat or barge.

—The new towboat Pen Wright was crammed on the shore, Sunday night, by the Lioness while the latter was endeavoring to make a landing. The Pickett pulled her off Monday morning. It was thought at first that she would be badly damaged, but she sustained nothing worse than a slight kink.

—The St. Louis Democrat, of Tuesday, says: It looks now, slightly, as if the E. H. Durfee, Esperanza and Viola Belle will get here, right away, cargoes of of Indian supplies for the Upper Missouri, under the Durfee & Peck contract.

—The Ajax left Louisville for New Orleans on Monday with 32 boats and barges, containing 570,000 bushels of coal, the largest tow ever towed down the Ohio river.

—The time of the Ida Rees, from Grand river to Fort Benton, was fourteen days, only. It is said that the run is the quickest ever made on the same track.

—Ben Woodworth, formerly mate of the Bostona, is the Democratic candidate for Representative in Lewis county, Ky.

SAVE FUEL.

BY USING THE

Wellman Patent Reflector

STOVE AND GRATE.

Which Stand Without a Rival.

The WELLMAN STOVE is furnished with the "REFLECTOR GRATE," and possesses all the advantages of an open fire place; it is specially adapted to houses where the flues are too small to admit a grate, and affords all the comforts of a CHEERFUL OPEN FIRE.

1st. As a radiator of heat it has double the intensity of any other grate.

2d. It is unquestionably the most cleanly—no soot or ashes escaping into the room—which, in the ordinary Grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.

3d. The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.

4th. As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent.

5th. It is highly ornamental.

6th. It is set so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to puff in windy weather.

7th. A slight motion of the shaker cleanses the entire fire, and causes it to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.

Samples may be seen and references had at the store of W. BARNES, corner of 3d avenue and Market street, Pittsburgh; W. F. GOODWIN, 66 Federal street, Allegheny, or at the FOUNDRY, corner Duquesne Way and Water street, Pittsburgh.

Parties who are building, or who contemplate changing Grates, are respectfully requested to examine "The Wellman." Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

HOME NEWS.

See advertisement of "Rooms Wanted" in to-day's paper on first page.

Yesterday James Holliday appeared before Deputy Mayor Nichols and made information against Fred. Oxenhart, charging him with disorderly conduct. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Vaccination.—All citizens of Allegheny city desirous of being vaccinated can have the operation performed gratuitously by calling at the office of the Poor Directors, third story City Building.

Letters Retained for Postage, May 17.—Hubbard & Co. A. H., Philadelphia, Pa., 3.

Pfiefer Martin, Halton, Pa., 3.

Mike Eanis was before Deputy Mayor Nichols yesterday, on a charge of assault and battery. Giffin McGerry charges Mike with giving his boy a strapping with a strap. Eanis gave bail for a hearing.

Fell from a Roof.—On Tuesday afternoon Oliver Griffith, employed in building an addition to Kloman's rolling mill, fell from the roof, on which he was then engaged, and was seriously injured. He was attended by Drs. Clark and Jones.

Disorderly House.—Frederick Bockman appeared before Mayor Callow yesterday and made an information, charging Martha Wright and Tillie Reynolds with keeping a disorderly house. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the erring damsels.

Assaulted with Knuckles.—T. W. Grubb made an information yesterday before Mayor Callow, charging a man named Evans with assault and battery. The prosecutor alleges that as he was walking along Ohio street he was assaulted by the accused and knocked down with "knuckles." A warrant was issued.

Fell Overboard.—On Tuesday evening as the steamboat Argosy was passing Horsetail riffle on her way up to this city a man named Gasbarra fell overboard and was drowned. The man was attempting to draw a bucket of water and in doing so he lost his balance. Efforts were made to secure him but without success. The body was not recovered.

Will be Released.—Yesterday morning Mr. Cordier, Superintendent of the Work House, came to Mayor Brush and requested that Washington Colville, who is at present in that institution, be released. Colville escaped from the Work House, and as a punishment for that offence was sent back. He has behaved in an excellent manner since his return and the officers felt disposed to do something towards his release.

Uniform Recommended.—A meeting of the Committee on Fire Engines and Hose, of Allegheny city, was held on Tuesday evening, at which it was agreed to recommend that the members of the Fire Department of that city be uniformed. The uniform of the Pittsburgh Fire Department, with the exception of the cap, was adopted, and in lieu of it a slouch hat was recommended. It was also recommended that the uniform be prepared in time for the force to participate in the ceremonies of Decoration Day in the new uniform.

Missing.—George Neurohr, a young man aged twenty years, residing with his parents on Concordia street, Seventh ward, Allegheny, has been missing from his home since last week. He has hitherto been very regular in his habits, and his friends fear that he has been foully dealt with. Any information regarding his whereabouts will be thankfully received by his parents.

Three boys, named respectively Moffet, Black and "Little Joe," have been missing from home since Tuesday, and it is feared they are drowned. Their parents reside in the Seventh ward, Pittsburgh, and any information of the boys can be left at the Pittsburgh Mayor's office.

Saved from Fire.

On the 15th inst., Mrs. Gormly, an aged woman who resides on Forty-fifth street, was engaged out doors in making soap. The fire was communicated to her dress, the wind being very high, and it seemed probable she would be burned to death. Some women were with her at the time but it appears that they were very much frightened and could do nothing. Mr. Wilson Stadts, policeman, was in the yard adjoining and with commendable presence of mind jumped over the fence and tore the clothing from the unfortunate woman, and probably saved her life.

Scene at Mayor Callow's Office.

Yesterday morning as an elderly woman named Light was before Mayor Callow on a charge of disorderly conduct, her daughter rushed in greatly excited and fell fainting on the floor. After she had recovered she stated that she had accidently heard of the arrest of her mother, but did not learn on what charge, and ran in great haste to the office. The fainting was doubtless caused by overexertion. The Mayor was about discharging the woman when the daughter came in and at the close of the hearing the two left the office apparently well pleased at the termination of the case.

Are Coming.

The great and grand zoological equestrian aggregation—Adam Forepaugh's—is coming. This wonderful combination, we see, is billed to exhibit on the Union Skating Park grounds, Allegheny city, on the 25th, 26th and 27th inst. Owing to the large amount of ground necessary to erect a tent large enough to cover this mammoth combination, they had to select this park. It would be useless for us to tell what can be seen at this show, as the reputation of Mr. Forepaugh is so well established for doing what he advertises to do, that it needs no recommendation from us. We have no doubt that the thousands who visited them two years ago will do so again and take all their friends with them.

Fire This Morning.

The alarm of fire this morning from box 37, about half-past one o'clock, was occasioned by the burning of some rags in the old freight depot of the Connellsville Railroad, corner of Water and Ross streets. The rags had been brought in during the day and were surrounded by other freight, all ready for shipment. It is supposed that a spark from the locomotive early in the evening ignited them and that the fire smoldered until the time stated, when it burst out in a blaze and alarmed the watchman.

The department turned out promptly, but a line of hose was run from the Steel Works of Anderson & Co., across the way, and the fire extinguished before material damage had been done.

I. O. O. F.

The grand encampment of the Odd Fellows of this State, in session at Harrisburg, has just elected the following officers to serve the ensuing year: M. W. Grand Patriarch, James Bingham, Jr., of No. 22; M. E. Grand High Priest, Augustus Pfaff, of No. 55; R. W. Grand Senior Warden, James McGahey, of No. 24; R. W. Grand Junior Warden, John Curtis, of No. 17; R. W. Grand Scribe, James B. Nicholson, of No. 51; R. W. Grand Treasurer, John S. Heiss, of No. 26; R. W. Grand Representative, John W. Stokes, of No. 16.

The M. W. Grand Patriarch appointed the following officers: W. G. Inside Sentinel, Sullivan S. Child, of No. 10; W. G. Outside Sentinel, George C. Hoster, of No. 47, and W. G. Marshal, Dr. John Levergood, of No. 11, whom he installed. He also appointed the standing committees.

Aprons and Neckties.

The Apron Festival, which occurs this afternoon and evening at Lafayette Hall, has excited no little interest and considerable curiosity in all circles. The prominent feature is of course aprons, but the ladies, not to be selfish, have provided for the gentlemen any quantity of neckties of all sorts; and furthermore, they have rightly considered that ice cream and strawberries will probably supply a want likely to be felt by all. The proceeds of this enterprise are to assist in keeping the sick poor who crowd the wards of the Homœopathic Hospital, and should be liberally sustained. There can be no more worthy cause or one which appeals more strongly to the sympathies of all the benevolent, and we hope that the entertainment will be largely attended and the managers rewarded abundantly for their toil.

The Egey Bigamy Case.

Some time ago we noticed the arrest of David B. Egey, charged before Mayor Callow with bigamy. It was alleged that Egey had three wives, and that the first one he married was living in Illinois. Mayor Callow has received a reply to a letter written some time ago to ascertain the facts. The letter comes from a lady giving her name as Susan T. Hickman Egey, who resides with her parents at Fairmount, Vermillion county, Illinois. She states that she was married to Egey at the above-named place in the month of March, 1859, and in the presence of several witnesses, and gives the names of some of them. She states also that she can produce her marriage certificate, and says that if Egey is married to another woman he is guilty of bigamy. The writer does not desire her husband punished unless guilty of the alleged offence.

Admitted to Practice.

As will be seen by our Court reports, Mr. Joseph D. Lynch yesterday, on motion of Hon. H. B. Swoope, was admitted to practice in all the U. S. Courts. This gentleman recently had charge of the Pittsburgh Legal Journal, and during his occupancy of that legal-editorial tripod enjoyed the confidence of the fraternity, and received the most flattering commendations from those high in authority, among whom was Chief Justice Thompson, who pronounced his paper the "only reliable legal journal in the State," and one of the very few published which he could endorse.

Mr. Lynch is a gentleman, thoroughly versed in the law, and withal one of the most genial and companionable of men, who if he but equals the expectations of his friends and those who enjoy his acquaintance cannot fail to pursue a legal career, alike honorable to himself and to the fraternity. We extend our congratulations and hope he may achieve the fullest success.

Probably Fatal Accident.

Yesterday a grocer named Goddoph doing business in East Birmingham, met with an accident at the South End of the Monongahela Suspension bridge, which if not properly treated, may prove fatal. It appears that Mr. Goddogoph went into the city to make some purchases, and after having made them was on his way home when the accident occurred. He was riding in a spring wagon, and was seated on the top of a barrel in the rear end of the vehicle. When he reached the corner of Carson street he attempted to turn out the track to allow car No. 15 of the Birmingham Passenger Railway, which followed him closely to pass. The wheel of the wagon caught in the curved rail, and the horse giving a sudden jerk, Mr. G. was thrown from his seat and fell to the track, immediately in front of the car horses. The animals became unmanageable, and although the driver made every effort to control them, he was unable to check the car until both wheels had passed over the unfortunate man. Both legs and one arm was broken, and the flesh badly lacerated, besides which Mr. G. sustained ugly gashes on the head and shoulder, probably inflicted by the horses. He was removed to Smith's drug store in the immediate vicinity, where he received prompt attention, and was afterwards conveyed to his home. It is feared that his injuries are of a very dangerous character.

I Have been using Sawyer's Barber Soap for about nine years, and I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best shaving soap I have ever used. It is now used in our family almost exclusively as a toilet soap and gives entire satisfaction. JOHN DOUGLAS,

QUADRENNIAL CONFERENCE.

Meeting of the General Conference of the Methodist Church—A Full Attendance—Arranging for Work—Union Discussed—Removal of the Book Concern—Committees Appointed—Points of Church Discipline Brought Up—First Day's Proceedings.

Yesterday morning at ten o'clock the Second Quadrennial Session of the General Conference of the Methodist (Non-Episcopal) Church, commenced in the Church, on Fifth avenue, Rev. I. W. McKeever, pastor. This body is composed of ministerial and lay delegates, the basis of representation being one minister and one layman for every one thousand members, and is the highest authority of the church—the law-making power.

When the Conference was called to order by the former Secretary, Rev. H. B Knight, it was found that all the district Conferences were represented—the majority with full representation. A number of visitors were also present.

The first business in order was the election of a

TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN.

Ex-Governor F. H. Pierpont, of West Virginia, and a delegate from the Pittsburgh District Conference, was nominated as Chairman and unanimously elected. Governor Pierpont upon taking the chair returned thanks for the distinguished honor conferred upon him.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

After the election of the President, religious exercises were conducted by Rev. Joel S. Thrap, General Agent of Adrian College. He read, as a scripture lesson, the twelfth chapter of Romans, after which the Conference joined in singing the 557th hymn, commencing

"And are we yet alive,
And see each other's face."

These exercises were concluded with prayer by Rev. Mr. Thrap.

SECRETARY ELECTED.

The election of Secretary being next in order, Rev. H. B. Knight, of the Pittsburgh District, was nominated and elected.

COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS.

On motion, Rev. C. Gray, of North Illinois District, Rev. H. B. Knight, of Pittsburgh District, and Mr. Henry Cassell, of Muskingum District, were appointed as a Committee on Credentials.

The committee examined the credentials of the delegates present, and submitted a report, which was adopted.

Rev. Dr. I. N. Baird, of the M. E. Church, was introduced and invited to an honorary seat.

THE LIST OF DELEGATES.

ELECTION OF PERMANENT OFFICERS.

Prof. Mahan moved that the Conference go into an election for permanent officers.

Dr Flood moved to amend by making the election the special order for the afternoon session.

The motion as amended was adopted.

Rev. Mr. Thrap, moved that a committee be appointed to present the names of candidates for permanent officers. Not agreed to.

Rev. A. H. Bassett, Prof. G. B. McElroy, Rev. J. B. Walker and T. H. Colhouer were invited to honorary seats in the Conference.

HOURS OF MEETING.

A resolution fixing the hour of meeting in the morning at nine o'clock, and in the afternoon at two o'clock, was offered and adopted. The hours for adjournment were not fixed.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEES.

Revs. C. Gray, Alexander Clark and John Burns were appointed a Committee on Rules and Regulations.

On motion of Rev. H. B. Knight the pastors of the Methodist churches of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Birmingham were appointed a committee to arrange religious services.

At half-past eleven o'clock the Conference adjourned to meet at two o'clock in the afternoon. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Springer, of Zanesville.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Reassembled at two o'clock, F. H. Pierpont, temporary President, in the chair.

A half hour was spent in religious exercises, conducted by Rev. C. Gray, of the North Illinois Conference.

The minutes of the morning session were read and approved.

Rev. Mr. Rose. Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Missions, Rev. Mr. Pace, of North Missouri Conference, and Rev. Mr. Hale, of Michigan Conference, were introduced and invited to sit as corresponding members.

Conference then proceeded to elect permanent officers, with the following result: President, Hon. F. H. Pierpont; Secretaries, H. B. Knight and J. W. Mulvane.

On motion, a committee of five was appointed on Church Extension.

On motion, the chair appointed Rev. Messrs. Collier, Murphy and Finch on Finance.

AN UNION BOMBSHELL.

Rev. Dr. Kost offered the following series of resolutions:

Resolved, 1. That unity is a cardinal element of Christianity.

Resolved, 2. That we congratulate our Presbyterian brethren on their success in union effort, and that we regard their Christian example as worthy of imitation by the branches of the Christian Church that have like family characteristics.

Resolved, 3. That it is the sentiment of this Conference that the great Methodist family in its different branches ought to come into a closer union, for we are one in doctrine, form of worship and general usages, and should be in fact.

Resolved, 4. That we regard the Methodist Episcopal the main branch in this country as having done something tending to the ultimate union of the Methodist family, and that our branch should not fall behind in this the prominent element of Christian character.

Dr. Kost, in presenting the resolutions, said he thought as the Board of Bishops of the M. E. Church, at their meeting in Erie, had taken action conciliatory and looking toward union, he thought that it was nothing more than courtesy that the General Conference of the Methodist Church should extend a like sentiment toward the main Church. The speaker dwelt at some length on the matter of union, strongly advocating the extension of the courtesy as indicated in the resolutions, and finally moved the reference of the paper to the Committee on Methodistic Union.

Rev. J. H. Robinson, East New York Conference, said they (the Methodists) might as well lay down their arms and invite the M. E. body to take them in. (Laughter.) There was a great deal of talk of what the M. E. Church had done, and yet what they had done had not been done at all. (Laughter.) They loved the Methodist Church about as much as the snake loved its victim, which it "licked before it swallowed."

He thought the Methodist church should first show by a vigorous growth that it could exist, and then the M. E. body would be glad to take it in. The question for the Methodist church to decide was whether they could exist with a commingling of laymen and the clergy in their church government. This had not yet been proven, and until it was the Methodist church had better allow all efforts of this kind toward Union, to rest.

Rev. Mr. Knight favored fraternal sentiment on the subject of union, but did not like to give his assent to the phraseology of the resolutions. In one place it said the whole Methodist church should be one in fact—he did not believe that, and did not think it could be demonstrated.

Dr. Floyd was of the same opinion of the subject, but thought as the resolutions contemplated nothing but a general sentiment favorable to union, that it would not be a letting down of their dignity to have them considered.

The resolutions were then by a small majority vote referred to the Committee on Methodistic Union.

THE BOOK CONCERN.

Dr. Collier presented a petition from the Preachers' meeting of Pittsburgh, recommending the removal from Springfield, Ohio, to Pittsburgh. Referred to Committee on Book Concern.

Dr. Collier presented the following query: What relation does a minister sustain to the Methodist Church who has withdrawn and been furnished with a certificate of dismissal? [This has reference to a discussion which has sprung up between Rev. Mr. Clark, editor of the Recorder, the official paper, and several of the ministers, in relation to the standing of the Rev. D. I. K. Rine, who withdrew from his annual Conference, but has since been officiating as pastor of a congregation under the jurisdiction of that Conference.] Referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Adjourned until this morning at nine o'clock

THE FIREMEN.

Meeting of the Fire Commission Yesterday—Changes Proposed.

Yesterday afternoon the Fire Commissioners held a meeting at their office on Fifth avenue. It was expected that they would take into consideration the proposed change in the location of the engines, but this matter was postponed until the next meeting.

It was decided to make a change in part of the uniforms—laying aside the present style of caps and adopting a different kind, samples of which were before the Commission.

After some discussion a resolution was passed recommending Councils to increase the salary of the Assistant Engineer.

The Commissioner's also decided to have each man in the department put under bonds for their faithful performance of duty.

The remainder of the session was taken up with routine business.

THE COMMISSIONERS TROUBLED.

The Temperance Men make a New Offensive Movement—Bold Attack on the Board—Grave Charges Against Two of the Commissioners—The Allegations Against Them—The Matter to be Settled in Court.

Yesterday the tiresome monotony which has marked the war of the Temperance men upon the saloon keepers ever since the first blush of novelty faded away, was somewhat relieved by a genuine and startling sensation, being none less than a grave impeachment of two of the members of the License Board The gentlemen against whom the charges were made are Messrs. McGhee and Neely.

The matter was first made public yesterday about noon, when Joseph Dilworth, Esq., one of the leading citizens in the movement against the saloon keepers, appeared before Mayor Brush and made separate informations against the two Commissioners named. The informations were drawn up by Mr. W. B. Negley, counsel for the Temperance men, and from the following which is a copy of that preferred the nature of the offence with which they are charged may be understood.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania vs. William H. McGee.

CITY OF PITTSBURGH, SS:

Personally appeared before me, Jared M. Brush, mayor in and for the city of Pittsburgh, Joseph Dilworth, who, being duly sworn, doth depose and say:

That William H. McGee, of the city of Allegheny, in the county of Allegheny, and State of Pennsylvania, on or about the — day of May, A. D. 1871, and at other days and times before that date, and within two years from this date, at the said city of Pittsburgh, being a qualified commissioner of the said county of Allegheny, and officer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, did agree to receive and accept money as a bribe or bribes for his influence in an application of Frank Anderson for a license to keep a tavern in the First ward of said city of Pittsburgh; and from various other persons did receive money to influence his decision in their several applications for license to keep taverns, &c., then pending or about to come before the Commissioners of said Allegheny county, as a board of licensers, and for which money and bribes, he, the said Wm. H. McGee, did then and there agree to give his influence in favor of the granting of said applications for license for taverns, and to grant and have said applications granted by said Commissioners of said county, then acting as aforesaid as a Board of Licensers of taverns, &c., and before whom the said applications were then pending; or to whom the same were about to be made. Further, that the said Wm. H. McGee, of the city of Allegheny, in the County of Allegheny, and State of Pennsylvania, on the — day of May, A. D. 1871, and at various other days and times before that date and with two years of this date, at the city of Pittsburgh, in said county of Allegheny, he, the said Wm. H. McGee, then being a qualified Commissioner of the said county of Allegheny, an officer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, did wilfully and fraudulently receive and take a reward or fee, and rewards or fees to execute and do his duty and office other than is allowed by law, or any act of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Complainant therefore desires that a warrant may be issue and the aforesaid defendant, Wm. H. McGee, may be arrested and held to answer these charges of bribery and extortion. And further deponent saith not.

Sworn to and subscribed, this 17th of May, 1871, before me. JARD M. BRUSH, Mayor.

JOSEPH DILWORTH.

The information

AGAINST COMMISSIONER NEELY

differs only in his name and that of the tavern keeper—he being charged with a like illegal procedure in the granting of the license of Wm. Ahrenholtz, a tavern-keeper in East Birmingham.

AN OFFICIAL VISIT.

As soon as the informations were sworn to, warrants were made out and placed in the hands of officers Ruch and Rivers, who proceeded to the Court House, where the Commissioners were sitting as a License Board. The officers upon arriving there, found the Board deep in the intricacies of hearing the applications, and politely held back until the two Commissioners for whom they had called obtained a little leisure, when their business was made known.

$5,000 BAIL IN EACH CASE.

The accused read the warrants complacently, and then, without parley or ado, proceeded to the Mayor's office, where they waived hearings and gave bail for court. They were each held in $5,000 security, which was furnished by Messrs. S. H. Geyer and N. P. Sawyer. The whole proceeding was conducted quietly and with but little excitement, and little was said upon either side, save the necessary conversation in arranging the case for Court.

The Commissioners deny the charges, and aver their equal anxiety with the Temperance men to have the matter settled in Court.

THE PUNISHMENT

for the offence is set down in Purdin's Digest, section 56, page 226, as follows:

"And the member of Assembly, or officer, Judge, juror or Justice, referee or arbitrator, who shall accept or receive, or agree to accept or receive such bribe, shall be guilty of misdemeanor, and on conviction, be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $1,000, and to undergo an imprisonment by separate or solitary confinement at labor not exceeding five years."

There was

when the proceedings became known, and the business furnished a topic for lively discussion in all circles. Of course, there were plenty of wild rumors afloat, and the wiseacres gravely shook their heads and mysteriously intimated that they knew all about it; but the affidavits which are said to be in existence were not produced, and the truth of the whole matter can only be arrived at in Court.

The proceedings will not interfere with the License Board, as the Commissioners, being released, are not disqualified from duty. The hearings will go on as usual, and the Board exercise its authority, as though no little episode had occurred to disturb the serenity of individual members.

PRESENTATION.

A Grateful and Gracious Act in Honor of the Memory of a Great and Good Man.

The colored people of this neighborhood have just presented the Western Pennsylvania Hospital with a remarkably fine portrait of their great benefactor while living, Mr. Charles Avery. The portrait is a very truthful one, and full life size. It was painted by Mr. Dalbey our well known artist. The following correspondence took place on the occasion of the presentation:

PITTSBURGH, May 8th, 1871.

To the President and Directors of the Western Pennsylvania Hospital at Dixmont:

GENTLEMEN: One of the few, the immortal, names among the people's benefactors "that were not born to die," is that of Charles Avery. Cherished in our hearts and fondly remembered as the man who while living did his best to lift the race out of slavery, and dying left a magnificent bequeathment in the endowment of collegiate institutions, one of which was built by his princely munificence, so that every son and daughter of our oppressed people may obtain that blessing which is greater than wealth—a good education.

Impelled by a sentiment of purest gratitude for his benificent deeds in our behalf, and honoring still, as we shall honor always, the name of Avery as our dearest household word, the colored people of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Birmingham present to you, as a tribute of respect to the memory of our great friend, the accompanying portrait, which exhibits him in his most truthful lineaments, even as he looked when he walked about among us doing good. We beg that you will place it in a vacant niche in your beautiful hall at Dixmont.

Presented in behalf of the people of the cities named above: Rev. John Peck, George W. Massey, Sr., Matthew Jones, Wm. H. Simpson, Hezekiah Anderson, B. F. Pulpress, Emanuel Harris, M. Howard, B. Mahoney, Jere Grandison, Chairman of Committee; S. A. Neale, Secretary.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL, PITTSBURGH, May 12, 1871.

Rev. John Peck and Messrs. Geo. W. Massey, Sr.; Matthew Jones, Wm. H. Simpson, Hezekiah Anderson, B. F. Pulpress, Emanuel Harris, Jere Grandison and S. A. Neale.

On behalf of the Board of Managers of the Western Pennsylvania Hospital, I thankfully accept the excellent portrait of the Rev. Charles Avery, presented through you to the institution, as set forth in your letter of the 8th inst., to which this is an acknowledgment. It shall have an honored place in the hall at Dixmont among the portraits of other good men whose liberality founded the hospital.

I may here tell you how Mr. Avery became one of the contributors to this charity. Although early applied to, he strangely refused to give a subscription towards its foundation. It was only when the institution was in successful operation, and he had ascertained that no distinction as to color or condition was allowed in the care and treatment of patients, that he inserted in his will the liberal bequest which places his name among its benefactors.

I had a long acquaintance with Mr. Avery, and know that you have not over-estimated his character. Colored citizens should be grateful, everlastingly grateful, for the beneficent deeds of this great-hearted philanthropist, and hold his memory in reverence for ages to come. It is said of John Howard that he sacrificed family for humanity; Charles Avery almost forgot his own race to disenthrall, uplift and enlighten yours. When he bravely stood before the world as your advocate and benefactor, such friendship had an inestimable value. Indeed, in those days of social prejudice, to confess friendship for the colored race was to court denunciation. He did not live to see political justice extended to your people, but from his elevated standpoint the refracted rays of the "Great Deliverance" must surely have reached his eyes. Why else did he endow collegiate institutions to make educators, but to fit the objects of his great sympathy for the higher destiny awaiting them? Great natures only are in advance of their times. Your belief that the name of CHARLES AVERY will be classed with those prophets and philanthropists whom the world will not let die, few now will gainsay.

Very respectfully, yours,
JOHN HARPER,
Prest. Western Penn. Hospital.

Musical Taste.

As time passes on, so the people in it advance in wealth, intelligence and refinement. The taste for music is rapidly increasing. No home is now complete without a musical instrument. As the taste increases for music, so does the demand for pianos and organs. This fact has brought about a great deal of rivalry among piano and organ manufacturers. It is also true that each maker claims his right to the honor of the first premium. This humbuggery has been carried to such an extent in the United States that the American people have become aroused to this system of pill advertising and wholesale quackery; it is really astonishing the credulity of the people—the avidity with which they swallow this superiority pill. All that is required to make a first-class piano is capital. Money will build large manufactories, secure the most skilled workmen; will fill the lumber-yards and dry-houses with the choicest lumber in the market, and last (thanks to the superiority pill) money will secure the superiority pill recommendation from Signor Tagliafanti, and herein lies the most of the merit. Is not this an insult to the intelligence of the American people? Are Americans so void of taste and common sense that they are constrained from the force of habit to secure the services of an outsider to select them in the selection of an article that is as common in the American home as any other article of household furniture. There are about thirty first-class piano manufacturers in the United States at the present time. Of this number some have become known by the judicious use of printer's ink, and others by the more substantial mode of making a first-class piano, and allowing the popularity of the piano to depend altogether on the actual merits of the instrument, which can be ascertained only by a long term of years. Among the last class we name the justly celebrated Dunham & Sons. This piano stands to-day without a rival as far as tone and durability is concerned. The manufacturers claim no flimsey gewgaws nor royal decorations, but the head of the firm does claim the honor of having invented the most important improvements in the piano, such as the overstringing and the sgraffe. So peculiarly satisfactory have they proved to Mr. Dunham that he freely gave them to the world. The Dunham & Sons pianos have been in use in this vicinity for a period of thirty-five years. Several of them can be found in use which have received no repairs further than tuning for a period of thirty years, and still in good condition. Mr. John M. Hale, late of Hoffman & Hale, has secured the agency for the Dunham & Sod's Pianos, and intends keeping a very large stock constantly on hand at his warerooms, No. 29 Fifth avenue, over Sands & Reineman's. Mr. Hale has started out on an entirely new principle to what has been the custom here for a long time. Mr. Hale proposes giving the customer the benefit of his judicious purchases and will allow no commissions to teachers. Mr. Hale awake to the wants of the people and the evils of the hour, proposes furnishing pianos and organs at a very small profit on first cost. Persons that are not prepared to pay cash can be accommodated on monthly payments. Mr. Hale is prepared to furnish pianos and organs on as good terms and on smaller profits than at any house in Pittsburgh. Mr. Hale defies any dealer in Pittsburgh to undersell him for cash. Call and examine Hale's fine stock. A good, substantial seven octave piano, rosewood case; all the late improvements. Manufacturers guarantee for seven years for $290. Sent anywhere on ten days trial, to be returned if not as represented. Call on Mr. Hale at No. 29 Fifth avenue, before purchasing elsewhere. He is alive to the wants of the people. Any person wanting a piano or organ would do well to go by themselves, select your instrument, and save the commission usually paid to teachers. A teacher is never known to recommend a piano in any other establishment but the one they are in the habit of dealing in. Mr. Hale proposes doing away with the evil of paying commissions to teachers at the expense of the purchaser.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—The very interesting drama "Narcisse," was performed at the Opera House last night to an audience which, though not large, at times proved enthusiastic. Mr. Bandman appeared to more advantage than on any previous occasion during his engagement. "Robert Macaire" was performed as an after piece and elicited roars of applause. Mr. Gotthold as "Robert" supported the part with a great deal of spirit, and Mr. Irwin made an admirable "Jacques Strop." Hamlet will be presented to-night.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The signal and uninterrupted success which has characterized all the performances of Carncross & Dixey's troupe during their present visit was visible last night. A house crowded to repletion in every quarter laughed at the jokes and enjoyed the delicious minstrelsy which has made the name of the organization as familiar in the mouths of amusement seekers throughout the United States as household words. Negro minstrelsy has been of late overdone. Troupes of the kind have swarmed with a vicious fecundity that has often been properly met by beggarly arrays of empty houses. Carncross & Dixey's are, however, a marked exception to the usual characteristics of the class. All the ill-favor which seems from some reason to have been visited upon the Academy of Music, has not in the least diminished the throng, uniformly made up of the best class of our people, who take pleasure nightly in signifying their delighted appreciation of the art, as interpreted by the Carncross & Dixey troupe. The programme last night comprised the usual variety of fun and melody, and the "License Court" was given with modifications. We cannot in conscience say that this parody on the Liquor Court has proved a decided success. It seems to us to be far beneath the average of the genial drollery which runs through the balance of the performance. This was to be expected, of course, as the proprietors have not been in the city long enough, nor is their local knowledge extensive enough to guarantee success in an effort of the kind. Mr. Carncross may congratulate himself on the possession of a most exquisite voice. A very great pleasure has been the lot of those who have had an opportunity of listening to the silver-tongued tenor. All the specialties of the troupe are first-class.

TO-NIGHT is fixed for Fred Aims benefit. Fred is a splendid fellow, a good manager and does his duty by the Pittsburgh public. To-night gives the public a chance of doing its duty by Fred. Two shows; one at the Varieties and the other at Masonic Hall.

OIL NEWS.

The new flowing well on the Prentice, Angell & Company tract at Foster, which is attracting so much attention just at present, has been considerably over-estimated, though 'tis decidedly a big strike. The well delivered in the 13 hours following 3 o'clock, P. M., Saturday, 180 barrels; in the following 24 hours, 280 barrels, and the next 24 hours, 250 barrels. We visited it yesterday, at which time it had somewhat cooled down, but was throwing about 2 1-2 barrels every half hour. Active operations are in progress to replace the property destroyed by the fire, and as soon as possible the tools and rope will be raised and the permanent value of the well determined. Judging from its present action, the flow is not likely to continue for more than a day or two, but the well is probably good for about a hundred barrels.

Another well, situated some twenty rods north of the flowing one, commenced pumping on Monday, and is doing about fifty barrels.

Several others are in progress and will probably be heard from soon.

This tract is on a direct line running nearly due north and south from the Milton farm to Scrubgrass, and about four miles of its length is held in fee by the fortunate owners of the flowing well.

The belt, as developed, appears to be from fifteen to twenty rods in width.

FOREST COUNTY.—The well to which we referred some time since as being drilled by Sheriff Davis on an island in the Allegheny, was finished last Monday at a depth of about four hundred feet and is yielding about thirty barrels a day; twenty-nine feet of third sand rock was found, and considerable excitement in that vicinity will be the immediate result.

CHERRYTREE RUN.—Operations on this territory are quite active, though large producing wells can scarcely be expected; four wells are drilled on the Brown farm; one was completed about a week since, that for a day or two yielded about thirty barrels, but has since settled down to steady work at about five barrels a day. It is owned by some eastern parties, who have secured a ten-acre lease, and is under the superintendence of Capt. Barber.

A new well on the Geo. Espey farm is yielding about six barrels daily.—Titusville Courier Journal.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—In looking around for suitable men to represent us in our next Legislature who understand our many and varied interests, none present themselves so favorably to our mind as Col. Wm. Espy. He is a man of large experience and of unyielding integrity, I think no one south of the rivers can represent our many interests better.

ADDITIONAL MARKETS.

Live Stock.

BUFFALO, May 17.—There was a failing off this morning of ¼ cent in price of cattle from closing prices of last week, and sales were chiefly confined to butchers; receipts were 353 cars against 368 cars for the same day last week, but western advices are to the effect that heavy shipments are being made, in consequence of which the market here will become overstocked, and prices will drop still lower; sales of 88 head of Missouri steers, weighing from 1,000 to 1,289 pounds, $6@7c; 84 head of Michigan, 1,220 to 1,400 lbs, $6.70@6.80; 17 head of Illinois, 1,008 to 1,270 lbs, $6.30@6.80; 109 Texan stillers, 1,127 lbs, 6c; 96 Ohio, 1,270 to 1,331 lbs, $6.25@8.00; 28 bulls, 1,482 lbs, $5.25, and 16 Canada steers, 1,137 lbs, $6.25. Sheep market very dull; supply all western; sales were made of 225 Ohio shorn, averaging 74 lbs, at $4.75; 725 Indiana mixed, weighing from 84 to 97 lbs, $5.40@5.62½; 83 wooled Ohio, 99 lbs, $6.50. Titusville Oil Market.

TITUSVILLE, May 17.—Petroleum sales: Upper Road, 1,000 bbls spot at $4.35; 1,000 do. at $4.37½; 1,000 bbls regular at $4.40; 1,000 do. do at $4.40. Rouseville, 1,000 bbls regardless at $4.55; 300 do. do. at $4.55; 700 do. do. at $4.60; 1,000 do. do. at $4.60. Lower Road, 1,000 bbls regardless at $4.60; 1,000 do. do. at $4.60; 500 do. do. at $4.60; 2,500 do S. O., June, $4.55. Oil City, 1,000 do., forty-six gravity, at $4.85. The market continued dull but firm, and prices are entirely unchanged from yesterday, except a slight advance on the Upper Road; the inquiries for oil are not as numerous, nor are holders inclined to push sales, consequently but few transactions were made; the Upper Road showed an advance of 2½c, $4.37½ being freely offered in the evening for spot; the Lower Road was unchanged, but the market closed quiet and strong.

LAST week a lady returned home in the evening, and heard some noise in a room usually occupied by herself and her husband. The door being closed, she was reduced to the keyhole, to which she applied her eye. She saw the figure of a woman; standing by her side was the husband of the jealous wife, actually engaged in adjusting a shawl upon the shoulders of the intruding female. Taking a shot-gun, she forced open the door, and shot the woman in the back. The husband screamed, the wife fainted. On her return to consciousness, mutual explanations followed. The body of the woman who was shot was brought in, and it was seen to be a dummy. The Virginian says the husband is a dry goods merchant, and had brought the image home to repair the damage it had sustained by exposure.
